Maquinna Doom May End Service on West Coast

Strong Protests

Mayor C. L. Harrison will throw his full weight behind the communities of Vancouver Island's west coast in their drive for immediate steamship or highway connections, following reports of removal of the Canadian Pacific steamship service.

"We are facing an intolerable situation," R. Barr, of Tofino's board of trade told the Times by telephone today. "We are isolated."

"We must have a steamship or road connection to survive. The whole economy of the west coast is at stake.

"Coast communities are making immediate joint representations," he said, "wherever they will do most good."

'IMMEDIATE' ACTION

The mayor said he would take the matter up with the government "immediately" in view of a report that the Princess Maquinna will be taken off the West Coast run and will not be replaced.

"It will be a disastrous blow—a calamity to the people of West Coast communities," the mayor said.

"It was bound to happen.

"We should have had a West Coast road long ago—procrastination has been our undoing at times."

The mayor declared he was "no isolationist for Victoria." The whole Island, he says, must be considered. He flayed politicians of the past who "won elections" on West Coast road promises and never fulfilled them.

Taking off the Maquinna, the mayor feels, brings to a head what he has been "advocating for years."

"Some people belittled my ideas on West Coast development in my inaugural address," he stated. "They are vital to Victoria and the Island."

WANTS ROAD

The mayor called for building the West Coast road from Jordan River to Port Renfrew, Bamfield and Port Alberni.

North of the Alberni Canal, he said the Tofino—Long Beach road should be built to serve Ucluelet, Long Beach and Tofino.

Thirdly, he said, a road should join Beaver Creek Valley Road with Comox and thence run to the north end of the Island to serve Quatsino, Port Alice and Hardy Bay.

"Politicians have been promising the West Coast road for years," said the mayor. "It is disgraceful."

West Coast communities should be served by a road, he maintained, owing to the heavy seas encountered on the coast.

He said Victoria cannot live to itself alone and added that he intended to carry out every promise he made with regard to Island development in his inaugural address.

TOFINO MOVES

Meanwhile, west coast communities lost no time in organization of their fighting lines.

Tom Gibson, Tofino board of trade president, is on his way to Victoria. He left immediately he heard, two days ago, that the Maquinna's service might be lost to the coast forever.

"He'll wait on the government, the Victoria Chamber of Commerce and anyone else who can be counted on to back our fight," a Tofino colleague said.

"We've been promised a road for 50 years," he added. "Now's the time to get on with it. But we have got to have immediate relief. Believe me, we'd welcome a road.

"Loss of the ship service is a serious blow not only to the logging industry, scattered up and down the coast, but to every man and woman in these communities."

C.P.Ss. Princess Maquinna

Steamer Survived Toughest Seas But Must Give Up Fight to Old Age

By MONTE ROBERTS
Times Marine Reporter

If sentiment could keep a ship alive forever, C.P.S.S. Princess Maquinna would never die.

But like a man who has outlived his three score and ten, her days are numbered. She doesn't feel quite right inside; and her advisers tell her the West Coast run is just too tough for an old lady.

Maquinna won't like it when she's shunted off to some quiet inland run; she liked to stick her sharp nose deep into an onrushing wave, and shake off the tons of green water with a confident shrug.

In the leather-padded saloon, a blushing bride would remember a sudden engagement elsewhere, and Maquinna would go "wop, with a wiggle between, as the cook fell into the soup toureen."

Maquinna never seemed to be worried by weather. Through wind and fog and tide-rip, she plowed along, her schedule hung in the wheel-house, a bible to be believed in—and followed despite the elements.

When the seagulls were grounded and the porpoises hove to in a sheltered cove, you'd still see her square forecastle head coming round the point, keeping to the schedule.

And the folks at Clo-ose or Nitinat or Ucluelet or Tofino or Kahawis would say "there she is," with the pleased voice usually reserved for the arrival of a close friend.

For that matter, Maquinna was a real friend to the isolated little settlements along the west coast, especially in the early years of her service, when her arrival meant the only contact with the outside world.

For that matter, she was more a member of the family that just a friend. She was B.C.-built, at Yarrows, and she has always been served by B.C. men.

She's classed as a coastwise vessel, but she saw as much heavy weather as the farthest-traveled blue-water ship. She'll always remember the wintry day in 1919 when she tried time and time again, to rescue the crew of the Chilean barqué Carelmapu, dismasted in a fierce blow off Cape Flattery.

She'd have kept trying, too, until she succeeded or drove herself under, but her master had the safety of her passengers in his hand, and had to ease her off.

There were only three survivors.

Yes, there's drama, and tragedy, and pathos in the story of Maquinna's life. But mostly there's happiness, for she brought pleasure to thousands—her passengers and the lonely dwellers in almost - forgotten backwaters of the rocky, wave-lashed coast.

Well, the old lady has earned a little repose. If she ends her days in quieter waters, her tired old bones will be grateful. But her spirit will long for the swells marching in from the wide Pacific wastes.

No sea could ever defeat her—but old age has.

Will Not Be Replaced

Canadian Pacific Ss. Princess Maquinna will be taken off the Vancouver Island West Coast run Sept. 24 for a boiler inspection which will almost certainly end her 39-year career.

With her departure, steamship service along the West Coast will end.

There are no ships available to replace her, and the C.P.R. will not build or buy a replacement as the run has been operated at a loss for some years.

Maquinna is certified by Steamship Inspection for operation until January, but Capt. O. J. Williams, general manager of B.C. Coast Service, is not satisfied with her condition.

"We cannot risk a breakdown in those rugged waters," he said this morning. "She might be Okay for two or three years more but we must not take chances."

WOULDN'T PAY

Capt. Williams believes that a boiler inspection will show that the only way to keep the ship operating in waters where storms roll in from the Pacific would be to re-boiler her. And the run does not justify the expense. Nor would it pay to build a new ship.

"The run is worked out, and has been for several years," he said. "We decided to keep it operating as long as Maquinna could do the job, and would have maintained the service longer if the safety factor had not been involved."

Declining revenues on the West Coast are the result of trends in transportation. Maquinna passengers these days are almost all vacationers. Business men travel by car or air.

CANNOT SUPPORT RUN

The "honeymoon trade," while a welcome addition to more prosaic business, cannot support the run for 12 months of the year.

Air and highway travel has caused a basic change in the C.P.R.'s planning. The newest unit in the Pacific Coast fleet—forecast by W. A. Mather, C.P.R. president, in his annual report—will be designed to carry passengers, cars, trucks and boxcars.

Mr. Mather said: "In view of the traffic potential on the Vancouver-Nanaimo route, consideration is being given to the provision of an additional unit capable of handling freight cars and trucks."

Later, in Vancouver, N. R. Crump, vice-president, reported that study of requirements were well advanced, and it is now expected that a definite announcement of building plans will be made shortly.

The new theory of water transportation is based on the fact that at least three passengers travel for each private car carried, and if you don't take the cars, you lose the passengers.

Maquinna and the west coast run do not fit in with this theory.

Plumbers Made 10 Cent Offer

Immediate Return to Work on Strikebound Jobs Called For

Victoria plumbers were meeting this afternoon to decide what action their union should take on a back-to-work call by plumbing contractors.

Members of the Master Plumbers' Association, it was learned today, have agreed to pay a 10-cent-an-hour raise to their employees but stipulate that as a condition of the agreement, the men return to work immediately on jobs presently strikebound by carpenters.

Master Plumbers' president John Noble announced a definite "settlement" had been reached with the union on this basis.

He said the settlement provided an hourly rate for journeymen plumbers of $2.10 an hour, and provided for "an immediate resumption of all work now in dispute."

Among projects at which, he said, work would be resumed would be the new Oak Bay Junior High School, the Army's new Radar Building and Work Point Housing project in Esquimalt and the new naval barrack block at H.M.C.S. Naden.

All these projects are strikebound by carpenters.

Possible avenues open to plumbers then:

1. Go back to work despite carpenter picket lines;

2. Apply for permission from the carpenters' union to resume work on certain strike-bound jobs;

3. Continue to stay away from construction projects until carpenters end their strike.

NO DEVELOPMENT

There were no new developments today concerning the Victoria carpenters' strike although new hope came to light in Vancouver, pointing to a quick settlement of strikes on the lower mainland concerning 3,000 carpenters and painters.

Mainland carpenters, who left their jobs 75 days ago, are studying a new settlement proposal put forward by the B.C. Labor Relations Board. The details have not been revealed.

At the same time, mainland painters have decided to vote on another board plan after employers aproved the terms. In this case, the proposal is that painters be given a 20-cent hourly raise.

The painters rejected a 15-cent boost earlier in hte week.

FOREST FIRES

Burns Lake Blaze May Be Near Control

B.C. Forest Service hopes to control the devastating 60,000-acre Burns Lake fire sometime Thursday.

"If weather conditions do not change, and our luck holds out, we may be ablet o bring it under control tomorrow," an official said.

Rain fell on the fire area for 20 minutes Tuesday, helping firefighters considerably.

The fire hasn't yet been completely 'trailed," but firefighters are now able to work close to the blaze, "which is a good sign," the forest service reported.

Firefighters expect to control the 1,200-acre Badger Creek fire, near Princeton, today.

The 900-acre Great Central Lake fire is "being controlled."

The Vernon Lake blaze in the Nimpkish district is "no quiet," the forest service said. It blackened 3,800 acres before being controlled.

There are 135 fires in the province and 1,236 men fighting them.

The fire hazard is going to be worse for the rest of the week, with hotter weather and lower humidities predicted, officials said.

Several "spot fires" in the Courtenay district, and one on Thetis Lake Road were extinguished Tuesday.

ST. LAURENT SPEAKS HERE SEPTEMBER 5

Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent will address a public meeting at 2.30 p.m., Friday, Sept. 5, in the Royal Theatre.

This will be one of his two public appearances in Victoria during his western tour next month. The meeting will be sponsored by the Women's Canadian Club.

Arriving on the morning boat from Vancouver, the prime minister will officially open the new Federal Building at 11 a.m., Sept. 5, and at noon he will be guest of Fisheries Minister R. W. Mayhew at a private luncheon at the Empress Hotel.

In the evening Prime Minister St. Laurent will be a guest of honor at a Government House dinner.

He will leave the city by car at 9 a.m., Saturday, Sept. 6, for a day of short visits to up-island centres.

JUDGE DENIES RECOUNT IN BURRARD

Winch to Appeal To Cabinet

VANCOUVER, Aug. 20 (CP)—County Court Judge J. A. McGeer today ruled against a recount of ballots cast in Vancouver - Burrard riding in the June 12 British Columbia general election.

The C.C.F. asked for a recount after Social Credit candidate Bert Price edged out the C.C.F. candidate Grant MacNeill by 246 votes.

Judge McGeer in dismissing the recount application said: "The difficulty here is the impossibility of conducting a recount when there has not been a compliance with the Elections Act in sealing, packaging and endorsing the ballots . . . You cannot get the ballots back where they belong."

If the C.C.F. had won on a recount in Vancouver - Burrard they would have held 19 seats in the legislature to Social Credit's 18.

PRECEDENT

The present elections act required that counted ballots be returned to the same envelope from which they were taken. Under the alternative voting system with its distribution of ballots this was found impossible.

Judge McGeer based his ruling on a judgment in the Vancouver-Point Grey riding. The B.C. Appeal Court found ballots could not be returned to their proper envelopes and Progressive Conservative A. R. MacDougall was declared elected.

FURTHER STEP

The C.C.F., however, plans further action to obtain a recount in Vancouver-Burrard.

C.C.F. leader Harold Winch said the Social Credit government has been asked to take cabinet action under section 148 of the Election Act. This section permits the lieutenant-governor to remove contradictions and impediments in the act.

"This is the only step left for us now," said Mr. Winch. "And this shows again the rotten draftsmanship in the act."

There was speculation today that Premier W. A. C. Bennett might call another election in Burrard to settle the controversy.

The Burrard seat has been hanging fire for six weeks. Recount demanded by the C.C.F. was first rejected by Judge McGeer on a technicality when the C.C.F. application referred to the seat as "Burrard" instead of "Vancouver-Burrard."

Supreme Court of B.C. reversed the County Court decision and ordered the recount to be held.

ASK ACTION

Mr. Winch said his party had applied to the provincial secretary this morning for action by the cabinet to remove "technical impediments" to the recount.

At the opening of the court hearing today E. I. Bird, counsel for the C.C.F. candidate, asked for an adjournment until such an order-in-council had been considered.

In reply, Judge McGeer said he was not dealing with an election, but with a recount, which could not be conducted when there had not been compliance with the Election Act in sealing, packaging and endorsing ballots.

BRAZILIAN QUINTS REPORTED GOOD CHANCE OF SURVIVING

SAO PAULO, Brazil, Aug. 20 (AP)—Hospital authorities here report that a 38-year-old woman gave birth to girl quintuplets Tuesday night. Doctors said they stand a good chance of surviving.

The babies, weighing less than three pounds each, were born within the space of three hours in the interior village of Sao Carlos, authorities said. The parents are Jose Albano, 38, a negro laborer and his wife, Maria.

The world has two other sets of living quintuplets—Canada's Dionnes, who celebrated their 18th birthday in May, and Argentina's Diligentis—now eight years old.

Reds Plan Sweeping Party Changes, Report

MOSCOW, Aug. 20 (AP)—The Soviet Union's ruling Communist party announced today that it will hold its first party congress in 13 years on Oct. 5 to give the party a sweeping reorganization and set up a fifth five-year plan. The new plan would increase Soviet industrial output by 70 per cent by the end of 1955.

A decree of the party's central committee, published in all Moscow papers, said the party's top control body—its Politburo—would be replaced by a "praesidium" which would have the function of "guiding the work of the (party) central committee between sessions."

NEW STATUTE

The changes in party organization are provided in a new statute to be taken up by the congress.

The Politburo, deriving its powers theoretically from the central committee of the Communist party, is in fact the ruling body of the Soviet Union, and thus of world Communism. It is made up of Prime Minister Stalin, party general secretary, and 10 others, plus a number of alternate members, and has wielded unquestioned authority under Stalin.

The party secretariat, however, remains under the new statutes.

The new statutes also provide for changing the two-decade-old name of the party—from the all-union Communist party (Bolsheviks) to the "Communist Party of the Soviet Union."

Western observers here considered the meeting will be the most important held in the Soviet Union since the Second World War.

(In western capitals, officials and observers saw the scheduling of the party congress as a major event, though they were reluctant immediately to speculate on exactly what it might mean. For some time westerners have considered that the failure of the Soviet Communists to call a party convention indicated possible weaknesses in the party structure at home. Today's announcement could mean that Russia's Communist rulers now feel they are strongly enough entrenched to face the party members.)

The new directives, expected to be the basis of the new economic goals the Soviet government will set, call for industrial production to increase 12 per cent annually. By the end of 1955, total output would be 70 per cent greater than in 1950.

STALIN TO ATTEND

Stalin presumably will attend the party congress and it was considered possible he might make one of his rare public addresses. He was the main speaker when the party congress met last in 1939.

Today's party decree said the congress would consist of two delegates for each 5,000 members of the party—one with a vote and one with an "advisory voice."

Island Fire Seen From Patrol Plane

Billowing smoke at north end of Great Central marks spot where crews are battling one of B.C.'s current forest fires. Blaze covers side of mountain but is being fought to standstill. In upper right-hand corner Angus MacBean (left), chief forester for MacMillan, Bloedel Timber Company, checks map of area with veteran pilot Hugh MacDonald of Vancouver shortly after they arrived back at Patricia Bay airport from daily fire patrol up-island. Polio Will Not Delay School Start

British Columbia's schools will open Sept. 2, on schedule, unless the polio situation in this province deteriorates to any extent.

Education department and health department officials confirm that no province-wide delay is necessary.

However, Dr. G. F. Amyot, deputy minister of health, pointed out that the polio situation in the Kimberley area was graver than elsewhere on the B.C. scene. There had been seven deaths there.

It is possible Kimberley may take action at the local level. They may seek postponement of school opening until the epidemic subsides.

Firm's Air Patrol Is Insurance Against Ruinous Forest Fires

By RON BAIRD

The thin spiral of smoke curled lazily skywards, puffing out from a thick green stand of timber high on a mountain-top between Comox Lake and Ash River.

Overhead, an amphibious plane gently mushed through dirty grey patches of smoke as veteran pilot Hugh MacDonald of Vancouver pointed to the trees below.

He was making his daily fire patrol run over MacMillan, Bloedel timberlands, sprawling like a thick green carpet over vast tracts of land up-Island.

With him was Angus MacBean, chief forester for the timber company and a former member of the provincial government's forestry department.

A few hours before, MacDonald had flown over the same spot and noticed no smoke.

But within the space of half a day, a fire started by a lightning bolt had mushroomed out from a covering of branches and was beginning to spread on the mountain-top.

"We'll have a crew up there tomorrow," said MacBean.

NEW MOVE

The daily (weather permitting) fire patrol is a new move by the big timber company to cut down on the terrible fire losses in the summer.

It came about as the direct result of the disastrous Mount Benson forest fire last summer which cut through hundreds of acres of standing and logged timber owned by MacMillan, Bloedel and other companies.

"The cost of that fire would pay for this plane four times over," observed MacBean.

In the past six weeks, half a dozen fires have been spotted by Pilot MacDonald while flying the company's sturdy Grumman Goose plane out of Vancouver.

Crews of men have reached the fires within 24 hours.

Evidences of the effect of past fires on the Island's rich timberlands can be seen on craggy slopes around Sproat Lake and nearby areas.

"NO-STRIKE" PLEA HIT

Labor Minister's Speech Brings Reply From C.C.L.

TORONTO, Aug. 20 (CP)—George Burt, head of United Automobile Workers (C.I.O.-C.C.L.), and president of the Ontario Federation of Labor (C.C.L.), said today he does not favor a no-strike pledge by labor.

He was commenting on a plea by Labor Minister Gregg that unions refrain from striking during the rearmament program.

Mr. Burt said labor was already seriously confined in its right to strike and "doesn't think the present emergency justifies any no-strike pledge."

"There probably wouldn't be any strikes if Mr. Gregg would see to it that legislation is passed to make them unnecessary. Mr. Gregg should look for the cause of industrial trouble in his own backyard."

Labor Minister Gregg made the request during an address before the Trades and Labor Congress convention in Winnipeg Tuesday night, when he said that Canada's 5,000,000 - man labor force is not big enough to meet both ends of her big defense program and her vast industrial expansion.

Strain to Stay Until 1954-55

"Industrial expansion is competing in manpower with a defense program which we simply cannot afford to reduce until our rearmament drive levels off," he said.

"And that time is not yet. It is not expected that Canada will reap the rewards of the strain our economy is undergoing until 1954 or 1955. In the meantime, it is a hard pull."

He reviewed the great industrial expansion—the huge Canso project in Nova Scotia, Alberta Oil, Labrador iron ore, British Columbia aluminum. A capital investment of close to $4,000,000,000 had been poured into Canada's mines, pulp mills, railways and factories last year.

It seemed apparent that a population of 14,000,000, with its working force of 5,000,000, would not be able to meet both this expansion and the defence program.

"Our self interest and for the sake of our own national well-being," the minister said, "we cannot let our opportunities go by default because of a short-sighted approach or laissez-faire attitude."

Labor had been hesitant to raise its sights on apprenticeship quotas "for fear of diluting union strength with too many competing for employment in skilled trades." On the other hand, "some employers' groups are reluctant to train apprentices in their plants for various reasons."

It had been left to the federal and provincial governments to provide the impetus for training. The federal government appropriated $5,500,000 for the purpose in the present fiscal year, he said.

"If there are other ways of increasing the size of our labor force, let us undertake them," the minister said.

A larger labor force would allow the heavy burden of expenditures to be shared among more people, with a consequent reduction in each share. There was general agreement "that Canada can or should not stop at a total of 14,000,000 people."

In these critical times there was a greater need than ever for industrial harmony. As the senior Canadian federation of labor unions, the T.L.C. could help ensure this "by your willingness to adopt mutual concessions."

FOREST PATROL

then burst into searing flames which spread over mountain tops and into green valleys.

Studded throughout the vast stretches of Island timber are logged-off patches of ground, cleared of all but a few barren trees and interlaced by hundreds of miles of logging roads which twist and turn like arteries.

On some of these "patch logging" sites new growth is starting to push its way to the sky and, in a few years, will replace the original stands long since cut down.

In a few cases, half a dozen trees are left standing in the centre of these logged-off areas.

Nature takes care of its own reseeding but, says forester MacBean, "we give her a hand."

From the air, the top half of Vancouver Island looks to be a sea of green with enough timber to last for eternity. The few bald patches where loggers' axes have carved out a chunk of this greenery are in the minority.

In many areas, the biggest axe has been wielded by fire, but even that scourage of the woods is being fought to a standstill.

Fire-spotting from the ground, said MacBean, is a well-nigh hopeless task and when the fires are spotted the battle in many cases is lost.

But from the air, a pilot can see the thin trickles of smoke that warn of fire.

Jumped on immediately, the situation can be controlled by a crew trained to battle this scourge of the woods.

For pilot MacDonald, his daily patrols are paying off for all lumber operators on the Island.

LIQUOR COMMITTEE NOW UNDER STUDY

A widely representative committee will be appointed soon to investigate the liquor problem in B.C., according to a Canadian Press dispatch from Vancouver.

The dispatch, quoting a Vancouver newspaper, said Attorney-General Bonner is expected to make the announcement within a few days.

The committee will be made up of laymen, churchmen, medical men and experts in various fields who know the problems of alcohol and the dangers involved, it is expected.

It will be the job of the committee to study all phases of liquor distribution and sale, here and in other parts of the world, so that B.C. can develop an enlightened law based on the best systems now in operation in other parts of the world.

"The committee," says the report, "will specifically examine whether liquor should be sold in cocktail bars only, in hotel cocktail bars, in restaurants with meals, whether cocktail bars or beer parlors should be permitted to serve food and a host of other related questions."

Attorney-General Bonner would neither confirm nor deny the report.

He admitted: "The liquor question is certain to be given earnest consideration by this government. It is one of eight or 10 pressing matters and it stands high on the list."

Of the committee idea, he declared: "It may well be that we will come up with something of the sort, but the decision will be one which the cabinet will have to make. And as yet, the cabinet has made no decision on the matter."

Highway Crash Kills Cyclist, Injures Boy

COMOX, Aug. 20—Levett Taylor, 40, of Vancouver, leading a party of Vancouver boys on a bicycle tour, was killed Tuesday afternoon near Comox when struck by a gravel truck.

One of his four young companions, James F. Porter, 15, was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital, Comox, with a fractured leg.

According to police reports Taylor and his party were standing with their bicycles at the side of the road near the Indian reservation when the accident occurred. Traffic was heavy as workmen headed home from airport construction jobs.

Police said the truck, driven by Lloyd Bulmer of Courtenay, swerved to avoid an oncoming car and struck Taylor and Porter.

Joint Iran Aid Program Urged

U.S. Asks British Co-Operation To Avoid Possible Russian Coup

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20 (AP)—The United States is reported to have urged Britain to join in an Anglo-American emergency aid program for Iran to avert a possible Communist coup.

State Secretary Dean Acheson is reported to have made this plea in a memorandum to Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden within the last 10 days. Acheson is said to have stressed the need for quick joint action to keep Iran's vast oil resources from falling into Russian hands.

American diplomats today indicated that British officials are decidedly cool to Acheson's idea, but apparently have not rejected it.

Acheson told Eden, they said, that the U.S. is prepared to give an immediate "token" grant of $5,000,000 to $10,000,000 to Iran if Britain simultaneously would:

1. Buy the the 2,000,000 tons of refined oil and oil products now stored in huge tanks along the Persian Gulf. This would bring the Iranian Government about $40,000,000 at present world market prices.

2. Declare Britain's willingness to abide by international arbitration of its long-standing dispute with Iran over nationalization of the Anglo-Iranian Oil Company.

OIL FLOW BLOCKED

Under pressure from Washington, British and U.S. diplomats are urgently exploring possible solutions to the British-Iranian argument. The oil dispute has blocked the flow of petroleum to the west for 14 months and has choked off the Iranian government's main source of revenue.

Britain's coolness to the American idea, officials said, stems from a belief that to buy any oil would undercut Britain's legal argument that the oil already belongs to Britain.

The British cabinet is scheduled to meet in London today with Prime Minister Churchill to consider a reply to an invitation from the Iranian Prime Minister, Mohammed Mossadegh, to resume oil negotiations.

BOOK PURCHASED FOR 15 CENTS CONTAINS LORD BYRON LETTER

COLOMBO, Ceylon, Aug. 20 (Reuters)—A well-preserved letter apparently written by poet Lord Byron more than a century ago was found today in a book of Byron's works bought 28 years ago.

The letter, dated April 17, 1819, probably at Venice, objects to a French publisher's attributing a book named "Vampire" to the poet.

"If the book is clever," it says, "it would be base to deprive the real writer, whoever he may be, of his honors. And if stupid, I desire the responsibility of nobody's dullness but my own."

The letter was found folded in the back of a book of Byron's poems published by Callignani of Paris. It was bought second-hand for about 15 cents by Dr. G. Mahabodhi, Singalese lecturer on medicine at Ayurveda College.

ON THE TIMES

By ART STOTT

If you see a knot of people gathered on a downtown sidewalk, don't jump to the conclusion that an accident has happened or that a crowd's trying to get in to a bargain sale. It could be Archie McKinnon telling the boys how Zatopek runs—telling 'em with gestures.

Stott

On the basis of the yarns he's passed on to friends, the man who helped Victoria's divers at the 1932 Games and has been official coach at the last three Olympics should have audiences rolling in the aisles when he hits the local luncheon and evening group circuits. Archie relives those events — and his whole body goes into the performance.

He may tell the luncheon and club crowds about the Canadian boxer who was going to be different. Other Canadians had gone into the ring, had collected too many punches and retired in the qualifying rounds. This one, a late starter, was going to change that. He explained how to the swimmers. "Watch me," he said. "Watch me. Wait'll I get in the ring."

So Lucien Beaumont of the swimming team went along to watch and came back to tell the swimmers what happened:

"He got in there. He danced around a little, and vham; de oder guy hit him. He sit down so hard and they start counting. They keep counting right up to 10. Then he jump up, run over de oder side of the ring, lift up de Russian's hand and then climb out. You'd laff. Yeah, you'd laff. It was fonny."

The boxer who was going to be different came back to camp and hung his head. All the good humor and friendliness were out of him. He avoided the swimmers—never spoke to anybody.

Heartaches and Grins

Then Archie was talking to the boys about some of the heartaches of the Games, telling them of athletes who had trained for years for special events, who'd set world records in some cases, and who hadn't succeeded in the big meet.

So the Canadian boxer who was going to be different looked up and began to grin a little.

"Yeah. Look at me. Four years I train. Four years. Then I go in there. He hit me so hard I go down and get a bruise. Yeah. I got a bruise. I go to the doctor. He say, yeah, I got a bruise—right where I sit down.

"My manager, he say, when you get knocked down, get up and chase the guy. I'm down there and I look up. Jeese, I see six guys and I can't get up. Then I see one guy and I get up, but it's too late. So I go over and lift his hand. He win. I lift his hand. That's the only time I lay a glove on him.

"Four years I train. How long I last? Four years I get ready and I'm in there just 21 seconds. That guy, he hit."

The laughs didn't come too frequently at Helsinki, Archie explains. It was pretty serious over there. World beaters were running and swimming their hearts out and being beaten by other world beaters.

He's inclined to agree with Bruce Humber that if Canada wants to produce winners the country will have to go into an all-out campaign to select the best potential athletes and give them intensive treatment on a national scale. But he's not sure he'd like to see that. Bruce hasn't committed himself on the desirability of such a program either.

They Play for Fun

"It's still recreation in this country," Archie explains. "Boys and girls go into sport because they like it. They like to run. They like to swim. They like to play games. Unless they're professionals, it's not really a business with them. But if the country insists on Olympic winners, it's hard to see how they'll compete against the systematized routines of other nations. For myself, I like the Olympic ideal of taking part, of giving all you have, of trying to win and trying with all your heart, but not making victory the only thing that counts."

You think of Archie's attitude and your mind turns to the intensive system followed in U.S. universities. You remember John Marshall who swam for Yale. You recall that he burned up the old freestyle records a couple of years ago and wrote a new set himself. Then you recollect that he managed to place in only one of the freestyle finals at Helsinki. You wonder if he was burned out too quickly.

You hear of the boy who won his event in London in 1948 and went through torments of mental agony before the judges again named him Olympic champ at Helsinki.

You think of the Canadians who still regard sport as recreation. And you wonder if maybe they haven't the right idea at that, even if they miss the Olympic medallions.

REPAID — In Chicago Alex Reveille came to the United States from Russia 35 years ago and often told friends of the "debt (he) owed this country." He died last Friday, aged about 74. His will disclosed Tuesday that he left $6,500 to the U.S. treasury.

TIMETABLE — In Korea Cpl. Ray Bohn of St. Louis is due to be rotated in Sept., but he wonders if he will get home by Christmas.

The reason: Back in June he wrote a dozen newspapers asking for mail. He was deluged with about 100 letters a day and from them he has found 25 girl friends who want him to visit them on his way home.

Bohn is studying maps and plans to visit all of them except a girl in Omaha, which he says is too far off his route. But he is not sure he will reach St. Louis before Christmas, because 25 girls take up a lot of a man's time.

POTTY — In Newport, Wales, the park gardener's 15-year-old assistant couldn't stand flower pots. Day after day he had to wash hundreds of them.

The final straw came when people began calling him "pot washer" when he was out with his girl.

So he raged through the potting shed and broke the stems of 328 prize chrysanthemums, valued at £125.

"He must have gone berserk," pleaded his counsel, when a juvenile court fined the pot-hater £5.

BOUQUET—In Secaucus, N.J., pigs may not be social outcasts after today.

A New York firm is spraying a deodorant on the hog habitants of Charles Schoh's farm as an experiment. If the scents wafted over his wallows stifle odors, says Schoch, all of the township's 55,000 hogs probably will get the perfume treatment.

Schoch, president of the Stock Farmers' Association of Secaucus, is confident of success. "After today we will have pigs that smell—like wisteria," he said.

New Skeena slides down ways.

Vice-Admiral At Launching Of Skeena

VANCOUVER, B.C., Aug. 20 (BUP). — Vice-Admiral Sir William G. Andrews, K.B.E., C.B., D.S.O. and N.A.T.O. naval commander, Tuesday night attended the launching of the destroyer Skeena, the first naval ship to slide down the ways on the west coast since the end of the Second World War.

Sir William attended the launching at North Vancouver's Burrard Drydock shortly after his flagship, H.M.S. Sheffield, berthed in Vancouver harbor for a nine-day goodwill visit.

The Royal Navy commander in American West Indies waters, was taken by his barge across the harbor, where Mrs. Clarence Wallace, wife of British Columbia's lieutenant-governor, and president of the shipyard, launched the latest addition to Canada's growing navy.

Long familiar with Canadian naval operations, Sir William was over-all commander of naval task forces in Korea waters at the start of the war and had three Canadian destroyers under his Far East command.

"I am convinced," he said at the launching, "that only through the work of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization can we find world peace."

The Skeena is the first of four of its class to be built on the Pacific Coast and much of its statistics are under tight security wraps.

LOST—In Lomita, Calif., fireman Alfred Trefethern and his wife, Joan, spent 18 months and $6,000 building their own home. A few days ago they moved in. Tuesday, while Trefethern was on duty, an alarm came in from his neighborhood. He saw his own house burn to the ground.

TELL THEM—WE FEAR NOTHING

Reds Free Detroit Man After 7 Years

BERLIN, Aug. 20 (Reuters)—Charles Noble, 60, Detroit camera manufacturer, met his wife here today after seven years in Communist concentration camps and prisons in east Germany on charges ranging from spying to Nazism.

His wife has been waiting here for him since 1946, a year after he was arrested by the Russians in Dresden.

German-born Noble, released Tuesday, said he had not been tried until last month, when he was found guilty of smuggling cameras and supporting the Nazis during the war. He was given a seven-year sentence, counting time served.

Noble said he had not heard from his son, John, since the two were arrested. He believed John had been taken to Russia. Another son, George, lives in Detroit.

Noble said the Communist judge told him: "Go back and tell your American bosses we are strong enough now. We fear nothing."

While he was imprisoned, the United States and Soviet authorities argued over his nationality. The U.S. claimed he was a naturalized American citizen. The Russians said he forfeited his U.S. citizenship when he returned to Germany in 1939 and stayed there during the war.

BRITISH BUSMEN STARTLED BY OUR ICED TEA DRINKERS

LONDON, Aug. 20 (AP)—Nine Cockney busmen came home today from a 12,000-mile tour of Canada and the United States and told of a continent crowded with mountains of food, well-dressed women and looney blokes who drink their tea with ice in it.

The drivers took their double-deckers abroad five months ago as an official "Come-to-Britain" stunt to attract tourists.

Albert Dennis, 34, startled Britons at a reception for the busmen by declaring that "temperature, just temperature, is what makes American women, especially those in California, more attractive than those over here."

Dennis hastily explained that what he meant was that the milder weather in the United States allows American women to wear lightweight and, therefore, more attractive clothes.

The drivers are going back to their old jobs wheeling big double-deckers through London.

The Ship and Its Cargo

THE CANADIAN GOVERNMENT and the government of Nova Scotia will shortly build a steamship to ply between Yarmouth and Boston. This project, costing something like $4 millions, may not seem very important in itself but it will contain much more than money, steel and engineering skill. As an invisible cargo the new ship will carry the whole problem of Canada's trade with Britain, now approaching a new and critical stage.

Canadian shipyards naturally wish to build the new ship. They think the two governments should insist on building it within Canada to employ Canadian workmen, even if it could be built more cheaply in Britain.

The federal government obviously is not impressed by this argument. Not long ago it decided to build two small ships for the Newfoundland coastal trade and awarded the contracts to British firms because they submitted the lowest tenders. The government is trying to save the taxpayers' money. But it has even larger concerns than that. It is trying to give Britain a chance to do business and earn dollars in Canada. The government is absolutely right on both scores.

In the long argument over international trade, which will come to focus in the November Commonwealth conference at London, the Canadian government has always held that this nation should buy where it can buy at the lowest price.

For this reason it has refused to discriminate against American goods in favor of dearer goods from Britain, knowing that any other policy would simply raise the cost of living within Canada and, through the higher cost of production, the price of Canadian exports which must compete in the world market. The same logic compels the government to buy from Britain when Britain offers the lowest available price.

Britain is a peerless shipbuilder and in the test case of the Newfoundland ships was able to underbid the Canadian shipyards. It may be able to do so in the case of the new Yarmouth-Boston ship. The Canadian shipbuilders would like to see Britain given no chance to tender on this work so that it may be done in Canada, regardless of cost. While apparently the government has made no final decision, it gives no indication that it will exclude the British yards. Evidently shipbuilders on both sides of the ocean will be given an equal chance.

If the contract goes to Britain, as it probably will, many Canadians will say that Canada has lost business, wealth and employment. A moment's thought will show how ridiculous that assumption is. For what will happen to the dollars which Britain earns by selling us a ship, or anything else for that matter? Those dollars will instantly flow back to Canada in the purchase of Canadian goods. We must never forget that, desperate as its position is at the moment, Britain is buying more from us than it is selling to us. Thus it has to spend in Canada every dollar earned in Canada and more besides.

A few millions spent to build a ship in Britain are not lost to Canada. They will return here to buy our prairie wheat, lumber from British Columbia or some other commodity which we can produce at satisfactory prices. The shipyards of eastern Canada may not be able to provide more jobs but British purchases here will maintain jobs in other Canadian industries.

If Canada refuses to buy British ships or other things, offered at the lowest competitive price, Britain simply will buy less here. The cost of such a policy will be, first, an unnecessarily high price for goods; secondly, a decline in our export trade and in the employment of Canadians who live on it. That is always the cost of a protective policy.

Curiously enough, the very people who demand that Canada do more to help Britain are usually the same people who, in a clear test like a ship contract, demand that Canadian industry be protected from British competition.

Peron Without Evita

HAVING LOST THE POLITICAL magic of his wife, President Peron, of Argentina, must now face the grim facts which Evita so often softened and disguised. Even if she was one of the most remarkable women of modern times, all the eulogies pronounced over her coffin, all the statues to be erected in her honor will not put Argentina back on its feet after the economic lunacy of the Peronist regime. Evita left a rainbow of romance, but not much else.

The plight of this naturally rich country is indicated by a single fact—formerly a huge exporter of wheat, it is now short of bread; once a high consumer and exporter of meat, it has to enforce meatless days. Peron has set the national economy back years, perhaps decades.

While his wife lived she could placate the city labor unions, the political base of the regime, with her charm and sometimes out of her unaudited charitable funds. Now labor is restive when it sees that its wage increases purchase no more food, when inflation is rampant and the impossible productive goals of the five-year plan are far from attainment.

As The London Economist reports from Buenos Aires, nothing can now replace the almost hypnotic effect which Evita's personality exercised on the Argentine masses, and particularly on organized labor. "Her intervention had staved off several strikes in recent years; her displeasure had been enough to oust more than one secretary-general of the C.G.T., the centralized trade union organization; and she had increasingly won the reputation of being the workers' intermediary with the president."

Even before Evita died, the government had begun to retreat from the blunders of an economic program which, in Argentina's circumstances could not possibly succeed. Peron attempted to hold up the world market, to force exports upon foreign countries at high, non-competitive prices and, of course, he failed. Now he is trying to restore the trade on which the nation flourished.

He is also trying to ingratiate himself with the farmers, whose interests were sacrificed to those of the city unions, by raising the price of farm produce. But this means raising prices to the consumer, however the raise may be disguised by inflation and it also raises the price of exports.

Obviously not knowing how to extricate himself from the ruins of his grandiose blueprints, Peron calls this a year of consolidation and transition before another five-year-plan is undertaken. He has completely reorganized his government and fired the old hands who helped him wreck the former plan. The new government, while appearing to go ahead, evidently is designed to execute a strategic withdrawal toward sanity. That is a long way off yet and for Peron the journey will be not only lonely, but dangerous. He has lost his partner, his surest shield against a discontented people.

Keeping the School Doors Closed

APPROXIMATELY 260 GREATER Victoria children—the sons and daughters of taxpayers—will lose at least one month's time in classrooms this year as a result of the strike retarding completion of the Oak Bay Junior High School.

If accommodation is provided for them by October, officials of the board will express no serious concern over the time that will be lost. It can, authorities say, be made up by extra effort on the part of teachers and students.

Should the strike prolong the delay materially beyond a month, some other arrangements would be required for the children. Conceivably the shift system, undesirable as it may be, might have to be applied.

Because of the uncertainties of the labor conditions holding up completion of the school and the possibility that work may be resumed in the near future, school officials have decided to make no definite plans until the actual date of school opening regarding the disposition of the 260 students. Perhaps that action, or lack of action, is justified. A tremendous amount of organization and reorganization would be required to place the youngsters who now lack classrooms. Such efforts might not be warranted if rearrangements were to be in effect for a short time only.

The situation is aggravated, obviously, by the fact that schools in existence are already crowded. Had they not been, it would have been less necessary for boards to undertake the costly construction authorized by ratepayers in building by-laws approved a few years ago.

As delay continues, growing public resentment may be expected toward those responsible for the halt in work on the building.

'Look on My Works . . .'

A MEMORIAL TO THE LATE George Bernard Shaw, to cost $675,000, has stalled, it appears, at the $2,700 mark, and the project has been called off.

The incident moves the Edmonton Journal to muse on the fleeting nature of fame. Consider, the Journal invites, "the great figures of the First World War and the inter-war period—Wilson, Lloyd George, Clemenceau, Foch, Mussolini, Trotsky—who would put up ten cents for a statue of any of them?"

Who, indeed? World need can still throw up great men, statuesque in their proportions and importance, but the age of marble statues is gone. Few modern heroes survive in tangible form.

That is not to say, of course, that they do not survive at all. Warm memory outlasts cold marble. A sculptor's fame can outlast the stone in which it had its origin.

So with G.B.S. Thousands who would not contribute directly to a memorial to him will still gladly pay admission to see his plays, will happily buy his works, will recall him in printed page and anecdote in generations to come. That, is seems, would please Shaw more than formal observance. The man who delighted in knocking figures off pedestals would not feel comfortable on one.

BOB RUARK SAYS

Lemons Aren't Illegal

NEW YORK—My vast wealth — diamonds, oil, wool and cattle, y'know —and my almost incalculable influence (I once fixed a parking ticket) are four-square behind Cpl. Frank Farkas of the Marine Corps, who is bucking the Supreme Court in Washington for the right to call a citrus medica limonum of the family Rutaceae a lousy lemon, even when applied to an automobile.

Ruark

The story is simple. Corporal Farkas has a car. He painted the word "lemon" on it and drew a few more fruits to emphasize his point. He was arrested and convicted in Washington's Municipal Court when the judge held that the lemons violated a District of Columbia ordinance against displays which tend to ridicule the maker of an automobile.

THE CORPORAL is a true marine. He said that the car is a lemon, that the car has cost him $600 in repairs since he bought it 80 days ago, and that, by golly, he is taking this matter to the Supreme Court. I'm with the corporal all the way.

In the first place, it would seem that the car is his property, no longer the property of the manufacturer, since it was bought second-fist. And, as his lawyer points out, the judge's ruling violates the right of a free man to free speech.

I MIGHT also point out that if the car were owned by pitcher Bob Lemon of Cleveland he could write his name all over it until his arm drops off. If it were the property of Miss Lenore Lemmon, the individualist, she could draw lemons on it until the cows return. So if people named Lemon or Lemmon might legally inscribe their names or family crest on a vehicle, who is to say that the corporal has not named his conveyance for a pitcher or a lady? Maybe he has an aunt named Lemon. I bet the judge didn't even ask him.

YOU COULD carry this to infinity. Maybe he likes lemonade. Maybe he is planning to enter the lemon business. Maybe he just thinks that the word "lemon" and the pictures are pure decoration, as we used to write witty sayings on jalopies when I was in college. No judge may actively peer into a man's mind and tell him arbitrarily that he is holding the car's manufacturer up to contempt. It is high-handed, for a start.

Enough of pure legal fact and gemhard logic. What I really wanted to say was that not enough customers have been kicking about enough things recently, which is why we have been beaten over the head so consistently in recent years by the people who have ungraciously accepted our money for things they so kindly have permitted us to buy—after due process of standing in line, of course.

NOT ENOUGH guys like Cpl. Farkas have had the guts to rear back and holler that the product smells on ice, and let us have a little more service, politeness and quality, please. It is no matter that the corporal bought the heap of his own will. Now he's got it he doesn't have to like it. Let him yell, and paint his lemons.

There is nothing more aggravating than a car that keeps coming unstuck. I left bits and pieces of mine all along the trail from Washington to Miami a year ago, and when I got there I barely had the chassis I started in. If it had been a horse I would have shot it and, as it was, I left it there to starve.

SOME used-car dealers—not, of course, the reputable—would slap a coat of paint and stuff a little sawdust into a Stanley Steamer and tell you it was a 1953 Cadillac. And, at best, you take chances with a piece of second-hand goods. This you know, and are prepared for. If your worst fears are realized, you don't have to holler whoopee and go dancing in the streets. You can kick and scream.

I hope the corporal wins his case, and I think the judge in Washington is an old sourpuss. Sour, like in lemon.

BRITISH authorities have we are appalled to note, mutilated the canteen piano into a condition of utter uselessness. They have distorted it, and armor-plated it with fiendish cunning so there is no place left to rest a noggin of suds or perch a cigarette which has suddenly become unbearably heavy to the hand, and they have girdled this monstrosity with brass plates against kicking, and with copper-tipped non-inflammable plastic keys which slope sharply so that only a well-wetted butt would stand a chance of clinging thereto.

What, we would ask, is the flipping big idea?

Any soldier of discernment knows perfectly well that the canteen piano has several basic functions. It is there to provide shelf-space for a minimum of three dozen glasses and at least one score cigarettes. It is there to support the footsore, the weary and the nearly-blind.

Its exoskeleton, preferably fashioned of wood, of satisfactory resonance, should, on sharp application of a stout boot-toe, emit bass, drum-like sounds to put a proper foundation under the invariably retrained singing.

Far down the list of essential qualities in a canteen piano is that it should be more or less capable of producing a variety of sounds similar to a regular piano. Even this has been dispensed with on occasion, and only a few painfully cultured types noticed.

But the new British canteen piano is none of the things a canteen piano ought to be. Not now, at any rate, while it is still in its untried state. But a row of six-inch spikes along that slanted top, we think, will provide a suitable rack for the glasses, and a few grooves could easily be hacked with a bayonet into the keyboard end-pieces which now slope, and cigarettes would rest easily therein.

A way will be found to stain unstainable plastic keys, or we do not know our soldiers. As for the brass plates, ingenuity and determination may yet triumph over the impossible.

HOSPITAL PLAN

It is a great pity Mr. Harold Winch and other protestants against the hospital charge of $1 per diem ignore the inescapable fact that whether in hospital or not a person has to eat. And that means a charge of not less than a dollar a day, so that while in hospital that person pays just what would have to be paid for food in any case. Therefore, whether a patient is in hospital two days or two years the dollar a day charge is no hardship.

WE'LL GO ALONG WITH MRS WONG

In the August 4 issue of the Times appeared the following: "Dr. Endicott's charges false, says Chinese."

That is a pretty serious charge for a foreigner to make against a Canadian citizen, especially when made in public in the capital city of one of the provinces.

The speaker, Mrs. Wong, by the way, is not Chinese, but a citizen of the U.S. This she reiterated many times during the course of her speech. Also she produced no evidence to prove her statements.

Here we have a stranger, a foreigner about whom nothing is known except what she herself declares, charging with deliberate falsehood one of our est-known citizens whose reputation for integrity and sincerity is universal. Not only this, but urged and implored that the U.S., Great Britain and Canada combine in an all-out war on China and punish those now in power there.

My personal impression was that she is what is called a "warmonger." Nasty words those? Did anyone else that heard her, I wonder, have the same impression?

NOT INFALLIBLE

I hope you will pardon my expression of amusement that your learned Mr. Pepper, being confronted with the opinions of some of the world's leading scientists, should in confutation produce the opinions of some 23 bishops of the Anglican Church, when one has gathered that Christianity, Christians, etc., are completely anathema as far as he is concerned.

The Anglican Church has never claimed infallibility for its bishops and, I believe, most Anglicans and other Christians would consider these bishops entirely wrong in this instance but apparently not so Mr. Pepper.

However, the bishops need not be upset at being considered fallible as this is covered satisfactorily in Hosea ii 6 et seq.

C. R. DOWNMAN.

STILL GLAD HE'S HERE

Herewith I'd very much like to put right what apparently is a misunderstanding of your reporter. It concerns the write-up in your paper about the Saanich Council meeting and our Terrazzo business.

At the end of the meeting, or rather discussion, about this matter I (not my brother Herman) made the remark: "I wish I'd never come here because nobody would have known the difference anyway."

With this I meant that if I had not gone to the council for a license my neighbors would not have known about our work because it hurts nobody, makes no noise and so on.

I certainly don't even think about expressing any regret for coming to Canada, I rather think the opposite way. A few jealous people who can't see an immigrant getting ahead, as they were so kind to state publicly, can't bother us much. Our work goes on, delayed perhaps, but they are mere trifles soon forgotten.

But nevertheless this small example of pitiful resistance against progress gives perhaps an answer to the amazing question: Why Canada with its vast riches that can buy the world sometimes has spells of unemployment? People can't hang on to tradition and keep things going in a way as it was ages before; they have to do repairs and alterations if the roof falls down on their heads. The sooner they learn it's no longer 1800 the better.

It Says Here

Exchange

We are of two, if not more, minds about the advent of television in Canada, and we view with particular gloom the prospect of television mixing in politics.

Our foreboding was not lessened a bit when we read an account of TV coverage at the two big political conventions in Chicago. The piece was written by Mr. Abel Green. Mr. Green is the editor of Variety magazine, and Variety magazine is sometimes referred to as the Bible of show business. The implication is all too obvious. Television is turning politics into show business.

Despite the fact that the American and foreign television outfits had more representatives at the conventions than there were official delegates, Mr. Green in the uninhibited language of his publication wrote the whole thing off as a "stinkeroo."

Mr. Green says "they had better script the show a little better next time." Heaven forbid. A very careful script was prepared by one Republican candidate, and the success of that convention was due entirely to the fact that the script got tossed out the window, and Mr. Eisenhower won when he wasn't supposed to.

We prefer our democracy without prepared script or make-up box.

Eisenhower Beset By McCarthys

By JOSEPH AND STEWART ALSOP
From Washington

THE ANGUISHED word comes from Denver that General Dwight D. Eisenhower's toughest campaign problem has split the Republican High Command right down the middle. The divisive problem is what to do about Senator Joseph R. McCarthy of Wisconsin, Senator William Jenner of Indiana and the other Republicans of their peculiar ilk.

Joseph

Originally General Eisenhower planned to solve this problem by a compromise. He would make a major speech, early in the campaign simultaneously denouncing softness toward Communism in the administration and character assassination and smear tactics anywhere, including his own party. He would then refrain from visiting Indiana or Wisconsin, and would thus avoid sharing a platform with either McCarthy or Jenner, the twin masters of the modern political smear.

This compromise plan has now been upset by heavy pressure from the Indiana, Wisconsin, Ohio and Illinois Republican organizations, seconded by Arthur Summerfield, chairman of the Republican National Committee. Gen. Eisenhower's speaking schedule already calls for a major appearance in Indiana in the second week of September; while an appearance in Wisconsin is being considered for later in the month. The official word is being passed out that the General will endorse all Republican candidates in these states, including Jenner and McCarthy.

McCarthy and Jenner are test cases for a very special reason. A good many other Republican senatorial and congressional candidates have persistenly and venomously attacked almost everything Gen. Eisenhower stands for. But McCarthy and Jenner have an unusual distinction.

They have publicly described Gen. George C. Marshall as a traitor to the United States. Jenner has told the Senate that Marshall was "a living lie," "a front man for traitors" and a "co-conspirator of treason." In his famous Senate speech against Marshall, McCarthy wholly surpassed Jenner.

As everyone knows, Gen. Marshall stood almost in a father's relationship to Gen. Eisenhower, from the humble beginnings to the splendid climax of Gen. Eisenhower's military career. The foregoing gems of modern American eloquence, taken together with Eisenhower's relationship to Marshall, explain Eisenhower's reluctance to offer Jenner and McCarthy a ride on his coat tails. The arguments that are being used to break down that reluctance amount to a plea that Eisenhower be untrue to himself.

In particular, the Indiana, Wisconsin, Illinois and Ohio leaders have been threatening the general with losing their states, unless he campaigns as a "real Republican." To do this, they say, he must embrace all other Republicans, including even McCarthy and Jenner.

Stewart

The general may well be susceptible to this sort of pressure, but only because of his political inexperience. If he were more experienced he would know the men who are now pressuring him are the same ones who charged Gov. Thomas E. Dewey with wilfully losing in 1948 because of his "me too" campaign. And Gen. Eisenhower would also know that this story about Dewey is patent stuff and nonsense.

Gen. Eisenhower has evidently agreed already to make a speech in Indiana. What he will say in that speech—how he will treat Jenner—in short which faction of his advisers he will listen to—are probably the biggest choices he has to make in this campaign.

Ups and Downs

By BRIAN TOBIN

"RELAX," said the Elevator Man, "take it easy. How many times a day do you hear that advice. It seems to have replaced the old 'Go to the ant, thou sluggard' stuff. In an age when everything is speeded up and hurry and bustle are the order of the day, you never hear anybody being told to do likewise. The picture of a fella running his head off to make a living isn't the model any more. It's the slow, langorous lad, conserving his heart and favoring his arteries, who's set up as the ideal. Not that there aren't still an awful lot of people galloping through life when they could trot or canter. The advice to slow down and relax seems to be taken only by those who were doing it already. It's not a new idea to them, it's just an excuse to keep on doing what they like best. Lower main!

Tobin

"Big business," said the Elevator Man, "still likes the go-getter. The dynamic, driving personality, the super-salesman, still is preferred to the sit-backer. But the medical profession and the vital statistics seem to have done a good job of persuasion. A lot of folks today feel that a really busy man's days are numbered. And once the girls start thinking that way, and showing it in their choice of husbands, there's bound to be a revolution. Sure, the go-getter will make more money while he's go-getting, they reason. But how long will he last? Will he be burned out while I'm still wanting to hit the high spots? And they tend to pick one of the also-rans, back in the field, who won't win any races maybe, but also won't burst his heart on the far turn. It's those arteries again, you see. Going down!

"Matter of fact," said the Elevator Man, "it's really only the last few years that we've had the high-strung, all-out executive type. Things were slower in the old days, when business offices served a cup of tea in the afternoon. But these days, when somebody's turned on the heat under the frying pan and the peas are hopping madly, it's different. The advice to relax is needed. But shucks, we were going to do it anyway."

WEATHER SYNOPSIS

VICTORIA'S SUNSHINE RECORD TO DATE, 1952—1,606.6 HOURS

SYNOPSIS: An extensive area of low pressure lies in the Gulf of Alaska and extends southward along the B.C. coast. From this storm area a series of weak disturbances has developed. The latest is now across northern B.C. and there is evidence of another developing in the vicinity of the weather ship. Each storm gives cloudy skies with some light rain to the northern coastal points. A few clouds and showers to northern and eastern interior points, but little of anything to the southwestern section of the province.

Thus very little change in the weather is anticipated in the next two days with little sign of rain to alleviate the forest fire hazard.

GOOD TO BE BACK TOGETHER

Members of Elgar Choir Holiday in Many Ways

(B.C.'s Elgar Choir has resumed its concert tour of Great Britain after a week's rest, during which members were allowed to go to whatever part of the country they wished. Today, Esquimalt chorister Kitty Dixon tells of some of the holiday activities of her companions and of the choir's visit to Glasgow and Dunfermline, birthplace of the renowned industrialist-philanthropist Andrew Carnegie. This is the eighth in a series of articles on the choir's overseas' tour.)

By KITTY DIXON

It was a happy reunion when members of the Elgar Choir met in Glasgow after spending a week of holiday with British relatives and friends.

Kitty

Some of our "family" had been to London and returned to us, with stories of Madam Tussaud's waxworks and of seeing Mary Martin in "South Pacific."

Some had spent the week in Wales and had been to the Welsh National Eisteddfod, or musical festival. Others had been to such seaside resorts as Blackpool, Southport and Morcambe.

Everyone seemed to have had a thoroughly enjoyable vacation, but all agreed that it was good to be back with the choir and on the road again.

While in Glasgow we stayed at the Glasgow Boys' High School, which is one of the largest boarding schools in the city. It was in the auditorium of this school that we gave our concert on Monday night.

Sir Hugh Roberton, the famous composer and conductor of the Glasgow Orpheus Choir, was unable to attend because of a serious illness.

We were disappointed, because we had hoped to meet him as did last year's Elgar Choir. However, others of the Roberton family came to hear us and we did meet them.

En route to Dunfermline on Tuesday morning we enjoyed the beautiful Scottish scenery. Acres of heather grow wild along the roadside. We stopped to gather some to bring home with us.

In Dunfermline we gave two performances in the pavilion at Pittencrieff Park. We had some spare time in this historical town and were able to do some shopping and sightseeing.

The 12th century Dunfermline Abbey was of particular interest, for beneath its pulpit is buried the heart of Robert the Bruce.

The city of Perth was our next stop. We gave a concert on the night of our arrival. The following afternoon we went back to Dunfermline to make some recordings, returning in the evening to Perth.

The recordings were made in Carnegie Hall, which is named after the late multi-millionaire, Andrew Carnegie, who was born in Dunfermline.

Maillardville Welcomes Nuns

MAILLARDVILLE, B.C., Aug. 20 (BUP).—The French-Canadian town of Maillardville, south of Vancouver, turned out en masse Tuesday night to welcome four Quebec City nuns who will teach in the community's schools this fall.

The four, from the Mothers of the Good Shepherd Convent, will replace teachers who resigned this spring during the controversial separate schools question which caused the town's school board to shut down the schools in April.

Two Anglers Rescued When Boat Overturns

City firemen Al Curran, 2561 Cook, and Art Abbott, 2380 Foul Bay, Tuesday afternoon saved a father and his son from drowning off Ten Mile Point.

Dragged to safety after their 12-foot rowboat had turned over in the wash of a Victoria-bound C.P.R. steamer were Robert J. Gregg and his son, Bobbie, aged nine, of 3430 Bonair Place. A retired oil company engineer, Mr. Gregg was in China for 32 years, coming to Victoria with his family three years ago.

The Greggs were fishing about halfway between Smugglers' Cove and Discovery Island when the waves from the passing steamer capsized their small craft.

Their cries for help as they hung onto the keel of the boat in the cold water were heard by Curran and Abbott.

The firemen, also on a fishing trip, were working on the new motor in their 19-foot cabin cruiser when they heard the shouts and quickly reached the pair.

They got the Greggs aboard, righted the small craft, bailed it out and towed it to shore. They lost about $30 worth of fishing tackle.

Mr. Gregg was critical of the fact that the steamer captain did not slow down to give the rowboat the right-of-way under such circumstances. He said he was pulling hard for the island when the accident happened.

Plunge From 13th Floor Kills Man

MIAMI, Fla., Aug. 20 (AP)—A man who plunged from the 13th floor of an office building and crashed through the roof of an adjoining two-story structure died today.

Charles Svoboda, 41, former employee in the Pacific Building from which he leaped, jumped from a window in a men's washroom, police said.

Svoboda apparently hit the roof head first. A hole about two feet square was found in the roof.

He suffered cuts to the head, broken arms, a broken right leg, and internal and brain injuries.

Police said it was suicide.

Strikes Keep Pupils Out of New Schools

Royal Oak Classrooms Won't Be Ready Unless Painters Start by Week-End

Opening of the new Royal Oak high school and the new Royal Oak elementary school will be delayed unless the painters' strike is settled by the end of this week.

This was announced today by G. L. Chatterton, chairman of the Saanich school board. More than 300 children will be affected, he said.

He said the painters had offered to start work on the Royal Oak Schools if the contractor would sign for the $1.87 rate or if the general contractor for the school construction took over the painting contract and signed for $1.87.

G. Kaiser, spokesman for the painters' division of the Building Industries Exchange Ltd., denied that employers had budged from an original offer of 15 cents an hour boost. The conciliation board recommended a 30-cent hike.

But Mr. Kaiser said a settlement of the carpenters' strike and the resumption of building may lead to a new consideration of the situation.

Mr. Chatterton added a decision might have to be made to hold classes in unpainted rooms, but in any event school opening would be delayed. Opening date would be announced later, he added.

Meanwhile, there were no signs today of painters and contractors reaching a settlement.

Don Bushell, business manager for the union, said "a good percentage" of contractors had signed with the union for wages of $1.87 an hour as recommended by a conciliation board.

MINISTERS CLEAN HOUSE

Lands and Forests Minister Robert Sommers and Labor Minister Lyle Wicks apparently are optimistic they will be in government for some time.

Both have had their offices redecorated, and have done a thorough job of removing pictures and other items associated with the previous occupants.

Another minister has had the locks changed in his office.

Drug Brings New Hope To Mentally Deranged

Intense interest is being shown in the amazing discovery that pyricidene, a new anti-tuberculosis drug, is favorably affecting mentally diseased persons.

Officials at the Provincial Mental Home at Essondale report use of the drugs on three TB patients also suffering from mental ailments has been encouraging.

Two of the patients, they said, experienced "some elevation of spirits and improved appetite."

Only a small amount of the drug has been made available in B.C., but will be used at the Wilkinson Road Mental Home if it continues to be helpful. True value of the drug, it was warned, would not be known for some time.

Discovery that pyricidene, originally hailed as a wonder drug in treatment of TB victims, was made accidentally at a Minnesota state mental hospital.

The drug was very effective in improving the condition of schizophrenics—persons suffering from split personality.

The drug has been credited with producing improvements in the personality in 32 out of 48 cases.

In the case of a woman who had spent 23 years in bed oblivious to the world, she improved noticeably after 90 days of treatment. Now she leaves her bed each day, reads newspapers and talks to attendants and other patients, something she hasn't done for years.

Church Union Rumor Refuted

Archbishop Harold E. Sexton stated Tuesday night that union of the United Church and the Church of England in Canada is not a thing of the near future.

A report emanating from Toronto said the United Church commission on church union has asked the general council of the church to take steps toward union with the Church of England in Canada.

The archbishop declined comment on desirability of periodic exchanges of pulpits between clergy of both churches.

"A great idea," was the way Rev. Moir A. J. Waters, chairman of Victoria Presbytery of the United Church, expressed his view on the pulpit exchange idea.

The union scheme was favored by Rev. William Hills who said: "There is no question about the desire of the Church of England to unite Christendom."

T.L.C. Renews Health Demands

Criticize British Plan But Ask National Scheme for This Country

WINNIPEG, Aug. 20 CP)—Though Britain's national health scheme came in for some criticism, the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada Tuesday renewed its demand for a Canadian health insurance plan.

The largest Canadian labor body, at its annual convention, asked the federal government to set up legislation for a health scheme on a contributory basis, declaring labor men are ready to assume their fair share of the cost.

Before adopting that declaration, the convention heard two former United Kingdom men say there have been mistakes in the British set-up, but Canada should study these and profit from them.

LEARN FROM BRITAIN

"Canada should learn a lesson from the ineptitude and bad methods used in the British National Health Service," said William Lockett, a Toronto aviation machinist who left England 18 months ago.

Let's dissociate ourselves from the idea that a national health service, which is so necessary, should be run by government," Mr. Lockett added. "Once the government gets its hands on your money, red tape comes in."

Robert Holmes, president of the Winnipeg District Trades and Labor Council and another U.K. man, agreed there have been failures in some aspects of that country's plan. But Canada should learn lessons from them, he said.

Les Hood of the T.L.C.'s Postal Employees' Union in Toronto, said national health insurance in Canada is being opposed by big business, doctors and insurance companies with "vested interests."

"The British have proved that objections to the idea don't hold water," he said.

In the statement adopted today, the 502,000-member T.L.C. did not spell out specifically its proposals for health insurance. It simply adopted a report from its legislative committee urging continuance of the congress executive's efforts to get the federal government to lay the groundwork for a plan.

This included approval of a statement in the executive's brief to the cabinet last March accusing the government of "failure to fulfil its solemn promise" to set up a parliamentary committee on health insurance at the last session of parliament.

Later in its sessions lasting all week, the 500 delegates will outline in more detail the congress' proposals on insurance, coupling them with other demands in the field of social security such as old-age pensions and unemployment insurance.

Today, it touched briefly on the pensions issue by adopting another statement from the legislative committee saying they should be increased to $65 a month, payable universally at the age of 65.

Housing Plan, Price Control Labor Planks

WINNIPEG, Aug. 20 (CP).—The Trades and Labor Congress of Canada Tuesday decided to continue pressing the federal government for programs of low-rental housing and slum clearance.

The T.L.C.'s annual convention expressed itself as "greatly disappointed" by inaction on these points and said housing shortages are aggravated by the government's "open immigration policy."

The congress adopted a declaration on housing among a series approved at its afternoon convention sitting as it concurred in reports from its legislative committee. Approval was given to these other points:

1. That the T.L.C. executive continue "unlimited efforts" to get complete reimposition of price controls.

2. Amendments to the Income Tax Act to provide lower rates of taxation and higher exemptions in the lower-income brackets.

3. Extension of the scope of the National Labor Code.

4. Inclusion of a bill of rights in the British North America Act.

Gold Price Said Killing B.C. Towns

Five gold mining communities in British Columbia (Pioneer, Bralorne, Hedley and two Wells settlements), are "facing extinction" because they are dependent on action of the International Monetary Fund which is "dictated by the United States," Harvey Murphy, regional director of the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers told the provincial cabinet today.

He made the statement in requesting the government to press Ottawa to ask the monetary fund meeting in Mexico next month to free the price of gold and let it find its own market level.

Britain Shows 2 New Planes

LONDON, Aug. 20 (AP)—Britain lifted the wraps from two top speed jet planes today, one a twin-boom fighter and the other a flying triangle.

The makers said the twin-boom fighter, a De Havilland 110, has flown faster than the speed of sound several times since its trials started a year ago. Sound travels at roughly 12 miles a minute. The fighter is powered by two Rolls Royce Avan jets, whose specification were withheld.

The flying triangle, the Boulton Paul P-120, is an experimental craft still under trial. It was designed for aerodynamic research at speeds approaching that of sound.

Drama in Quantities As Millmen Take Lead

Smith's Homer Sinks Students in Slugfest

A real dramatist would have waited for the ninth inning. But B.C. Forest Products' Mickey Smith couldn't bring himself to wait quite that long. Instead, he boomed the three-run homer which won the game in the eighth.

On the wrong end of a 6-5 score when Smith came to bat, the millmen were entirely satisfied with their backstop's big blow into the left field trees. They needed no further runs to end their Tuesday night game with Chinese Students, 8-6.

The game was important as it was the first in a best-of-five series to decide Vancouver Island Senior A Men's championship.

In a game full of thrills and heartbreaks, the millmen took the upper hand on two occasions only to lose it and the students almost pulled the fat out of the fire in the top of the ninth with runners on second and third with two away. Stan Tenning dropped in a blooper that centre fielder George Brown just managed to catch for the final out.

PITCHER PARADE

Both teams used their complete mound staffs in attempt to keep the game from getting out of hand. The win was picked up by Cy Guest who went in in the seventh but wasn't around for the final out as coach Bud Ross came in to retire the last two batters.

Tenning, the fourth pitcher used by the students, was tagged with the loss.

Forest Products scored the first run of the game in the bottom of the second on two walks and a wild pitch by starter Charlie McKay and Tony Bishop's sharp single to left field.

In the bottom of the third the winners scored three runs on four hits, the big blow being a two-run triple by Charlie Sansbury.

Students finally broke their string of goose eggs in the fifth inning when Gar Taylor, who had gone in to pitch in the third, doubled, went to third on an error and scored after Don Robinson grounded out.

DERR HOMERS

Four straight hits by the students in the seventh brought about a change of hurlers for Forest Products. Cy Guest, who relieved Norm Haskell, was greeted rudely as his first pitch to Tommy Derr was clouted for a two-run homer that gave the students a 6-4 lead.

Taylor got into trouble in the last of the seventh by walking the first two batters. He brought in Stan Tenning to pitch to George Brown.

Brown went down swinging for the first out and Bishop forced Mickey Smith at third for the second out. Guest aided his own cause by dropping in a single behind the infield that scored Herb Bate from second base to put the Millmen one run back at 6-5.

DRAMATIC BLOW

In the last of the eighth Jeff Worrall grounded out but Bob Embleton and Sansbury walked.

Smith worked the count to 3 and 2, and lined out the next pitch to the far reaches of left field for what proved to be the winning blow. He was mobbed by his teammates as he crossed home plate.

If this first game is any criterion of the series, the final is going to be a natural, as the Students, with a mediocre mound staff, and a hard-hitting club are going to try and overcome a good mound staff and a so-so batting order.

The second game of the series is billed for Thursday night at 6:30 in Central Park, with Ross and Tenning more than likely to oppose each other on the mound.

Shore score follows:

		R	H	E
Chinese Students	000 010 500	6	11	1
B.C.F. Products	013 000 13x	8	8	4

McKay, Oliver (3), Taylor (3), Tenning (7) and Chow; Haskell, Guest (7), Ross (9) and Smith.

PUGILISTS UNWELCOME IN MAJORS

CINCINNATI, O., Aug 20 (UP).—National League managers with ideas pugilistic were warned today by president Warren Giles to "take up boxing or wrestling."

In the wake of a five-day suspension to manager Leo Durocher of the Giants for raising his fist against umpire Augie Donatelli last Sunday, Giles warned all his managers by telegram that "there is no place for pugilism in baseball."

Giles stressed that any form of body contact between managers and umpires would result in immediate banishment. The slightest contact with an umpire, Giles warned, "will be considered the same as pushing and the penalty will be suspension and a fine."

The National League president also emphasized that combative gestures in many cases will be regarded the same as actual contact.

Hal Yardley To Be Awarded Batting Prize

Hal Yardley, flashy infielder for Butler's Aces, will be honored Thursday night for placing well ahead of all other Senior A Softball League players in the batting-average column during this season.

Yardley will be presented with the batting champion's trophy during the playoff game between Forest Products and Chinese Students, which gets underway at Central Park at 6.30.

Last year's batting champ, Bernie Clarkson, has been invited to take part in the ceremony.

Meetings Called For All Bowlers

A series of meetings has been scheduled to organize winter bowling in the city.

Meetings will be held at Gibson's Bowladrome, all starting at 8 p.m. All league bowlers and others interested are asked to attend.

Schedule of meetings follows:

Friday — Commercial ten-pin league.

Monday—Mixed five-pin league.

Tuesday—Commercial five-pin league, senior ten-pin league and ladies' commercial five-pin league.

Thursday — Mixed ten-pin league.

Friday — Financial five-pin league.

Increase Seen This Year in Minor Soccer

Teams from Sidney and Duncan will be participating as regular members of the Lower Island Junior and Juvenile Football Association this year.

Duncan may field as many as three sides while six new teams are expected to emerge from the Greater Victoria area.

An association meeting to elect officers and make plans for the forthcoming season is scheduled for Monday at 8 p.m. at Civil Defense Headquarters, 612 Government Street.

TICKET PLAN ANNOUNCED FOR LACROSSE PLAYOFFS

Manager Ralph Baker of the Shamrocks has announced the ticket-sale plan for the Intercity Lacrosse League playoffs.

Tickets for the opening game of the semifinal series, scheduled Friday, Aug. 29, will go on sale to season ticket holders, Thursday, Aug. 28, with the general sale taking place Friday, the day of the game.

Season ticket holders are reminded that failure to pick up reservations on the day preceding the game will result in such tickets being included in the general sale.

As announced earlier in the season, prices for all playoff games will be advanced to $1, and 75 cents.

Sale of tickets will be held at Memorial Arena from 10 to 5 each day. Tickets for the second game of the semifinals, scheduled Sept. 5, may also be purchased at this time.

TYEES SMACK BRAVES

Lorino Dandy; Granny Handy

As the wise old man in the back row of the bleachers said: "Good pitching is dandy but home runs are handy."

Truth of his statement was borne out Tuesday night when Victoria Tyees took on Tri-City Braves at Kennewick and came from behind for a 4-3 victory.

Ben Lorino, ace left-hand hurler of the Tyees, provided the good pitching and notched up his 21st win of the year—tops for the league.

Granny Gladstone provided the home run with a big clout in the eighth.

PROVIDES WINNER

The homer was Gladstone's 12th this season. It brought one other Tyee in to tie the ball game 3-3. When Gladstone returned in the tenth, he again provided the spark by hitting a sharp single which fetched in manager Cec Garriott from second to win the game and put Victoria 12 games ahead in league standing.

Ralph Romero was the losing pitcher. It was his 12th setback of the season. He's won 16.

Elsewhere in the league, Salem Senators came up with two victories over Vancouver in Salem. The Senators took the seven-inning opener 2-0 and the nightcap 3-1.

At Spokane, Tom Del Sarto dished up a four-hitter as Yakima downed Indians 2-0. Both Yakima runs were unearned.

BOTH KINDS

Lewiston fans had their cake and ate it too as they saw one well-pitched game and a barrage of home runs in another in a twin bill.

Wenatchee took the opener 5-3 with reliefer Bill Stites choking off a Lewiston threat in the seventh. In the nightcap, Bob Williams hit two homers and Don Lundberg one to give Lewiston a 10-3 verdict.

WESTRUM FINED

CHICAGO, Aug. 20 (AP)—Catcher Wes Westrum of New York Giants Monday was fined $100 by National League president Warren Giles for bumping umpire Tom Gorman in a game against Brooklyn Dodgers at Ebbets Field last Thursday.

ROCKS SEEK TITLE

Boxla Battle Billed Tonight

It's Waterloo, the Plains of Abraham and Bunker Hill all in one tonight at Memorial Arena as Shamrocks and New Westminster Salmonacs square off in a game that could make the Shamrocks Intercity Lacrosse League champs before breakfast.

If the Shamrocks win tonight's game, they are in because only New Westminster has a chance of disputing the league title.

A New Westminster victory would mean that Victoria would have to settle things with Nanaimo and Vancouver, their last two opponents of the season.

The Irish meet Nanaimo in the unhospitable confines of Nanaimo Civic Arena Saturday night and finish out the regular season against Vancouver at Kerrisdale Arena Tuesday night.

GAME IN HAND

Two points ahead of the Salmonacs and with a game in hand, the Rocks will be out to tie the string on the title tonight with a victory.

To the first-place finisher goes the playoff advantage of having an extra game at home and that to the Shamrocks would be a welcome boost as they have met with a lack of success away from Memorial Arena, while losing only two games at home.

Salmonacs, of course, will be just as anxious as Shamrocks to pick up two points. Added to the extra game at home is the fact that the first-place team meets the fourth-place finisher in the best-of-five semifinals, while the second-place team meets the third-place finisher.

POSSIBILITIES

After tonight's game, Salmonacs have only one contest left on their schedule, a meeting with the unpredictable P.N.E. Indians, Thursday night. If Salmonacs win both games and Shamrocks lose to either Nanaimo or Vancouver, the Irish and Salmonacs would finish in a first-place tie.

In this case, it would be necessary to use the goals-percentage method of deciding the league champ.

If Salmonacs win both games and Irish lose all three, the Salmonacs would win the league championship by two points.

Coach Arnie Ferguson announced Tuesday that the line-up for the game would be the same as last Friday's game against Indians, except that Art Green would return to the utility spot in place of Bob Long.

Although he did not make any predictions, Ferguson said that the Rocks would not want to spoil the dance that follows the game, by losing.

The dance is being presented by the Shamrocks Sideliners' Club in co-operation with the arena management, and will start immediately following the contest.

SMITH ON SPREE

Ernie Smith set a season's individual scoring record Tuesday night in the Intercity Lacrosse League as he paced Vancouver to a lop-sided 24-11 win over Nanaimo Native Sons.

Smith rapped home nine goals and added one assist to compile a total of 10 points for the evening's work.

As for the game itself, from the opening whistle it was strictly "no contest" as far as Native Sons were concerned.

Vancouver jumped to a first-quarter lead of 7-2 and never looked back. Nanaimo did break even in the second period holding the local boys to 3-3.

Helping Smith on the scoring end were Harry Buchanan, Bert Ticehurst and Sam Sakich, all with three goals each.

New Car Bowling Prize At Capital City 'Drome

A new Morris car will be the prize for fivepin bowlers at the Capital City Bowladrome this year.

In announcing the formation of a "Singles Classic" League, alley manager Phil Smith today outlined an original idea in bowling in which 50 bowlers will compete for a total prize list valued at $3,000.

Under the scheme bowlers will compete in a 30-week schedule divided into three sections of 10 weeks with the top average bowler of each section meeting in a playoff.

The grand champion will receive the Morris car.

Points will be awarded each night on a handicap basis to all bowlers, ranging from 49 to the highest bowler to zero for the lowest.

To start, handicaps will be based on last year's average, changing each night progressively through the season. Eighty per cent handicap will be allowed.

It is proposed to hold league play on Friday nights although other arrangements may be made, depending on the wish of the league members.

A general meeting, at which the program will be fully outlined, is scheduled for the Capital City 'drome Tuesday night at 8.

It is anticipated that the league complement of 50 bowlers will be quickly filled. Entries are being accepted from either sex.

Lions Club Take Over Basketball Promotion

Lions are going into basketball to prevent basketball from going to the dogs.

The Lions in this instance, however, are not the four-footed felines that reputedly rule the jungle. They're the 50 Victoria business men who get together for lunch every Friday to devote their spare time to promoting community enterprises.

Announcement that the Lions' Service Club will take over administration of the Victoria and District Basketball Association, and attempt to restore the hoop sport to the high place it held in Victoria in pre-war years has come from clubman John Priestley.

Priestley, a past president of the service organization, will be chairman of the Lions' committee which will handle the sport-promotion deal. Other committee members will be announced later in the week.

The Lions will handle all scheduling and promotion from senior "A" to midget divisions and take full control of finances. Early consideration will be given by the committee to providing better accommodation and facilities for the sport here.

Chinooks Go One Up By Downing Farmers

Chinook baseballers, who finished behind Farmer's Construction in regular league play, showed Tuesday night that they are seeking revenge for that humilitation.

Chinooks turned the heat on the contratcing men in the first of the best-of-five final and won 10-4.

The teams go again tonight at Royal Athletic Park with Chinooks determined to make it two in a row.

Rangy Paul Beck went to the mound for the winners and chalked up a one-hitter. He struck out five during the game but made lots of trouble for himself by walking seven.

BOOMING BATS

Ed Shepard and Doug Peden provided the power. Shepard banged out two triples and a double while Peden proved consistent with four singles.

Bernie Anderson was the only Farmer hand to get to Beck. He pounded out a double in the first frame but after that was hitless like the rest.

Norm Forbes handled chucking chores for league leaders but without support was hit hard. He struck out 11 and walked only one but 15 hits and five errors by his mates put him behind the eight-ball.

GAIN SWEET REVENGE

Two Canadians Still in Contention

SEATTLE, Aug. 20 (CP)—Two Canadians remained in the hunt today as the United States amateur golf championships went into a two-a-day routine to whittle the field down to the top 16 by nightfall.

Walter McElroy of Vancouver, Canadian amateur titleholder, established himself as a third-round favorite over Dan Silvestri of Sharp Park, Calif., on the strength of a 5 and 3 victory Tuesday over Warren G. Campbell of Seattle.

Fellow townsman Bill Mawhinney, a former Canadian amateur champion, was rated an even choice against veteran Bruce McCormick of Hollywood. Mawhinney's second-round victim was Dirk Prather

A third Vancouver entry, Percy Clogg, put up a gallant struggle before bowing to one of the favorites, Walker Cupper Jimmy McHale of Mamaroneck, N.Y., 2 and 1.

WALT McELROY
. . . Canadian champ

Pete Kelly of Fredericton, who got past the first round on a bye, was blasted by Jim Molinari, a San Francisco policeman, 6 and 5. Toronto's Phil Farley bowed by the same score to Johnny Dawson, a Palm Springs, Calif., veteran.

Wesley Ellis, Jr., of Austin, Tex., accounted for the remaining Canadian, Nick Weslock of Windsor, Ont., defeating him 4 and 2.

Such ranking favorites as Frank Stranahan, Harvie Ward, Jr., and Charlie Coe staved off elimination, but there were two big upsets.

The first came when Robert W. Kuntz of Larchmont, N.Y., former Yale captain and U.S. marine, eliminated Joe Gagliardi of Mamaroneck, N.Y., runner-up for the crown at Bethlehem, Pa., last year. Kuntz won, one up.

BILL MAWHINNEY
. . . Vancouver's pride

The second came when Billy Jo Patton of Morganton, N.C., ended the one-day joy of 18-year-old Ira Gruber, Duke University star from Pottsdown, Pa. Gruber made the headlines in the first round when he defeated the defending champion, another Billy Jo, last named Maxwell, on the 21st hole, Gruber bowed to the next Billy Jo, however, 3 and 2.

Par at the Seattle Club is 35-36—71 for its 6,632 yards.

Players say the course is most deceptive. "It starts out easy," said one. "Then before you fully realize what you are into, it gets tougher and tougher. Coming home on the back side it can be murder."

DUNCAN DROPS OUT OF DISTRICT SOCCER LOOP

Rumors that the Duncan eleven would withdraw from the Victoria and District Football League were verified Tuesday when the up-island squad failed to renew its membership in the league before the closing deadline.

Don Grey, league secretary, announced today he had heard from the six other teams who played in the loop last year but had received no word from the Cowichan Valley band.

The league, however, will still consist of seven teams.

The Canadian Scottish Regiment has filed application to join the league. Its bid for membership will be voted on at the annual meeting scheduled for next Tuesday at 8, in the British Public Schools Club.

Other teams retaining membership from last year are Legion, Heaneys, Victoria West, Esquimalt, Alcos and Civil Service.

Anglers Gain Fishoff As Tickets Unclaimed

Sixty-nine persons who did not originally qualify to take part in next Sunday's mammoth fishoff for a rich boodle of prizes in Saanich Inlet in the annual ladder derby are now in a position to participate in the big event.

Officials of the Victoria-Saanich Inlet Anglers' Association, following a meeting Tuesday night, ruled that because 69 of those who originally qualified for the fishoff did not pick up their finalist tickets by deadline time — Tuesday evening — their places will be taken by persons knocked off weekly ladders with smaller fish.

"These people should pick up their tickets immediately from the store of Wilson & Lenfesty, 1225 Government," Wil Wilson, president, reported today.

A total of 400 fishermen are qualified to fish in the more than $3,000 prize final.

George Douglas, secretary, reports that the following are now eligible for the Sunday final, if they pick up their tickets:

TOP STARS ADVANCE

Canadian Net Meet Into Fourth Round

TORONTO, Aug. 20 (CP)—Canada's Davis Cup players and leading stars from the United States eased their way into the fourth round of the Canadian Lawn Tennis Championships Tuesday. All but one — Montreal's Brendan Macken—made it with ease.

Macken was forced to three sets before defeating Rodolpho May, 22, of Mexico, in the third round men's singles.

Curly-headed May, rated fifth in Mexico, took the first set and seemed well on the way to victory in the second when Macken broke through his service to win 2-6, 6-4, 6-2.

Macken, who obviously had trouble getting started, double-faulted three times in one game.

ROCHON WINS

Later in the third round singles, left-handed Henri Rochon of Montreal defeated Pete Stewart of Toronto, 6-1, 6-3.

Stewart, a finalist in recent Toronto district tennis competition, forced the game in the second set but failed to match Rochon's bewildering variety of cuts.

Blonde Lorne Main of Vancouver played his usual steady, two-handed game to defeat Andy Stern of New York, City in straight sets, 6-3, 6-4.

In one of the most heralded matches of the tournament blonde Hugh Peacock of Toronto was defeated by Dick Savitt, United States ace from Orange, N.J., 6-1, 6-0.

Art Larsen of San Leandro, Calif., U.S. National clay and hard court champion, easily defeated Ralph MacMillan of Edmonton in love sets.

Hal Buroughs of Virginia City, Va., who defeated Canada's Lorne Main of Vancouver at Quebec City recently, downed Vladimir Lercque, champion of Eucador, after a hard-fought battle, 6-2, 8-6.

Pat Macken of Montreal, playing in her first round of tournament play here, defeated Louise Davenport of Vancouver, 6-2 6-3.

Former Czechoslovakian titlist Hanna Sladek put Nancy Collings of Edmonton out of the tournament, 6-2, 6-0, in second round women's singles play.

Jim Bentley ot Toronto lost to Francisco Arcocha of Mexico City, 6-2, 6-1.

UMPIRE DIES

CINCINNATI, Aug. 20 (AP)—William Carpenter, 79, umpire-in-chief of the International League from 1929 to 1944, died Tuesday.

Carpenter, a native of Boston, Mass., first became interested in baseball as a young boy here. He started his baseball career playing with various minor league clubs.

Ailing Hurlers Turn in Sharp Pitching Chores

NEW YORK, Aug. 20 (UP)—It is "Get Well Week" among the pennant contenders, and you never saw such healthy convalescents as Sal Maglie, Preacher Roe and Ed Lopat.

The Giants and Dodgers had special reason for elation after shutout victories from their aces with the aching backs—Maglie and Roe. The Yankees got similarly fine work on Sunday from Lopat and think he is ready to get hot for the stretch run, too.

DODGER LEAD CUT

Maglie, pitching his first complete game since June 26, shut out the Cubs, 5-0, on eight hits and the Giants cut Brooklyn's lead to six and a half games by also winning the second game, 3-1 on Bobby Thomson's two-run homer and Hoyt Wilhelm's fine relief pitching for his 11th win against two losses.

Maglie's victory, coming after a triumph last week in Brooklyn in which he needed relief help, made it plain that he is "ready and rugged." It was his 14th win and his fifth shutout, putting him in a tie for the league lead in that department with Curt Simmons and Karl Drews of the Phils.

BUMS SPIT

Roe, who hadn't turned in a complete game since June 24, was even more impressive, giving up five hits for his ninth victory against one loss, 3-0, but Cincinnati put a damper on things by winning the second game, 5-3, on Herman Wehmeier's six-hit pitching and Ted Kluszekski's two-run triple in the eighth. Willard Marshall gave Cincy a 3-3 tie earlier with a two-run homer.

In the American League, the Yankees stayed two games in front of the Indians, even though they lost, 3-1, to the White Sox, after the Red Sox nosed out Cleveland, 6-5. The Athletics moved ahead of the White Sox, going into fifth place with 4-3 and 6-5 victories over the Tigers while the Senators topped the Browns, 2-1. In other National League games, Robin Roberts became the first Philly pitcher since 1915 to win 20 games in three straight seasons, when he topped the Pirates, 10-5, while the Cards topped the Braves, 7-5.

Marv Grissom, given a 3-0 lead in the first inning on a walk, three singles and an outfield fly, pitched seven-hit ball to down the Yankees. Yogi Berra tagged him for his 25th homer to spoil what would have been his second shutout in a row.

Mayor Predicts New Taxes Due

Information Up His Sleeve, He Reveals, About Provincial, Federal Levies

While he said he wanted it kept a secret, Mayor Claude Harrison told some 30 members of the Victoria North Kiwanis Club Tuesday that he was only fooling when he first refused to attend the summer meeting of mayors and reeves this year.

He intended to go all along, the mayor said at the club's dinner meeting in the Monterey restaurant, but he had something up his sleeve—inside information that taxes on dominion and provincial property could be added to the city's income.

But, said the mayor, he did not want this to get out, so he had announced he would stay away from the conference on the pretext of saving money, then go at the last minute under "pressure."

"It worked," Mr. Harrison told the Kiwanians.

"I think you'll find it'll be done," he said. "First the provincial and then the dominion taxes will come to the city."

The mayor did not disclose in detail what he knew was to happen at the mayors' conference but he said it involved a step being taken in another province in regard to Crown land taxes.

THIS HIS AIM

It was, in fact, with the object of getting these taxes that he ran for the mayoralty, Mr. Harrison added.

The money will be needed soon enough, he said. Some means must be found of getting water for the district from Sooke Lake. The present pipeline had been built by experts as an experiment and was a "dismal failure," he said, costing $1,000 a month for maintenance. In operation it reduced by half the amount of water coming through the intake before it could be delivered.

"It is doomed, eventually," he said.

$4,000,000 JOB

The Sooke Lake water source would have to be tapped by a tunnel at a cost of possibly $4,000,000, he explained and this could be financed by equalizing assesments, a poor idea in his opinion, or out of the expected additional revenue from Crown lands taxes.

Another urgent project the city must undertake soon and that the new taxes would finance, he said, was a new Point Ellice Bridge.

Dealing with his recent up-Island trips by land and water, Mayor Harrison said the need for co-operation between various districts was more apparent than ever.

PLANNING ESSENTIAL

He stressed the necessity of a concerted plan to link Island communities and tap Island resources by highways and adequate ship services.

So far, he said, politics had held back the Island's development, as instanced by the failure to establish a steel industry when vast quantities of ore were being shipped from Quinsam, great lime deposits were untouched and rich timber and farming districts left unconnected and isolated.

"Vancouver Island," Mayor Harison concluded, "is one of the richest lands in the world and could support a population of at least 2,000,000, yet even now by lack of proper development it is forced to import from the mainland and the Gulf Islands nearly 60 per cent of its food."

655-YEAR-OLD MAGNA CARTA COPY BOUGHT

WELLS, Eng., Aug. 20 (Reuters)—An ancient English boys' school disclosed today it has sold an authenticated copy of the Magna Carta to the Australian government for £12,500.

Headmaster G. S. Sale said the document was found among the King's School archives 16 years ago — presumably the property of some earlier headmaster. He said the 402-year-old school would use the funds for new buildings.

The unblemished parchment copy, dated 1297, is a confirmation by King Edward I of the charter sealed by King John at Runnymede in 1215. The charter broke the autocratic powers of English sovereigns and formed a legal basis for Democratic government.

The document is one of 14 in existence.

Record 3,000,000 Crowd Promised for Toronto Exhibition

TORONTO, Aug. 20 (BUP)—Hotel rooms filled up as fast as the showrooms today as officials completed plans for what they said would be the biggest and best—and probably most profitable—Canadian National Exhibition.

The Royal York Hotel, biggest in the Commonwealth, was booked solid for the first week of the annual show that opens Friday and will last for two weeks. The Ford Hotel reported it didn't have a vacancy until close to closing day, and others said American tourists were swamping them with bookings. Attendance is expected to set a record of 3,000,000.

Governor-General Vincent Massey will come here from his Port Arthur, Ont., home for the formal opening ceremonies.

The show will be one of the first public gatherings outside a baseball game to be televised by the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation.

Also scheduled for opening day, if the water is warm enough, is a $9,500, 10-mile race for what was billed as the world's swimming championship. The first grandstand show will be staged that afternoon and star singer Tony Martin with an all-Canadian cast.

Exhibition officials said there would be more exhibits than ever along the 14 miles of paved roads in the exhibition park facing Lake Ontario. The "Ex" was reported collecting a record $500,000 in rent for more covered and uncovered space than in past years.

NANAIMO, Aug. 19—Hugo Lystander of Ladysmith has been released on $500 bail after pleading not guilty in police court Monday to a charge of driving while his ability was impaired.

Lystander, who was convicted on an impaired driving charge last October, will face trial on the new charge next week.

Last year, the accused was fined $100 and costs for driving while under the influence of alcohol and had his license suspended by the police magistrate for a year. The suspension, however, was over-ruled when he appealed the decision to County Court.

Martha Raye's Ex-Secretary Said Tipster in Vice Probe

NEW YORK, Aug. 20 (AP)—Comedienne Martha Raye's former secretary is identified in newspaper reports today as the jilted girl friend who was reported to have sent vice probers into cafe society circles after Minot F. (Mickey) Jelke.

Jelke, 22, heir to a multi-million-dollar margarine fortune, was charged last week with compulsory prostitution as a city-wide crackdown on $500-a-night call girls reached its peak.

New York City newspapers today say that Patricia Ward, 19, gave police the information that led to Jelke's arrest. The reports say the pretty blonde is the mysterious "Miss X" who has been held in $10,000 bail as a material witness and testified this week before a grand jury.

The district attorney's office could not be reached for comment on the published reports.

Miss Ward was in hospital last May 21 after swallowing a quantity of sleeping pills while staying overnight at Miss Raye's suite. Police said the girl had written a note indicating she was despondent over a broken romance.

Jelke has blamed his arrest on "a disgruntled female who feels she was jilted." He did not name her. Nor have police disclosed whether Miss Ward mentioned any man in her note.

Miss Raye, who is not involved in the vice probe, said last May that she invited Miss Ward to remain overnight.

778 POLIO CASES 46 DEAD IN WEST

Alberta Hardest Hit in Last 24 Hours With Four Deaths; Epidemic Worst Near Calgary

By Canadian Press

Five new poliomyelitis cases were reported in the Calgary district Tuesday, bringing to 778 the number of cases in western Canada this year. Forty-six have died from the disease. A week ago 32 deaths and 611 cases had been reported.

Alberta was the hardest hit in the last 24 hours with four deaths compared with one each in Saskatchewan and Manitoba. Sixteen have died in Alberta, compared with 13 deaths in Saskatchewan, 10 in British Columbia and seven in Manitoba.

Saskatchewan has the most cases with 264. Alberta has 220, Manitoba 198 and British Columbia 102. A week ago the totals were 209 in Saskatchewan, 165 in Alberta, 154 in Manitoba and 83 in B.C.

The Calgary area is the chief epidemic area in Alberta. There, 113 cases and eight deaths have been reported.

Saskatoon will not open its schools until Sept. 8 because of the epidemic but the province's capital, Regina, does not plan to postpone school openings.

Edmonton's health board has decided the situation has not reached the stage where it is necessary to impose restrictions on public gatherings.

Alberta's health department has decided to assist in bearing the cost of polio cases. Retroactive to April 1, all hospitals in the province are entitled to $8.30 a day for each polio patient. Grants are not paid on mild cases where no paralysis develops.

Church Urges Ban on Bingo, Other Gaming

TORONTO, Aug. 20 (CP)—A department of the United Church of Canada Tuesday recommended amendments to the Canadian Criminal Code which would outlaw bingo games and "other forms of gambling."

The recommendation of the church's department of evangelism and social service is contained in a report to be presented to the general council meeting in Hamilton next month.

The report said support should be given the request of the Alberta Legislature that "present Criminal Code exemptions permitting gambling, such as bingo games at fall fairs, the Canadian National Exhibition and similar events be amended to reduce drastically this king of gambling."

There was an alarming increase in the form of sweepstakes and raffles in some fraternal orders, service clubs, community clubs and veterans' organizations.

New Red Air Base Close To Berlin

BERLIN, Aug. 20 (AP)—The Russians were reported today to be building a jet-air base in the east zone within six minutes' striking distance of Berlin.

The report was front-paged in the Neue Zeitung, German-language daily sponsored here by the United States high commission.

The newspaper said that the field was under construction along the highway between Gueben on the Elbe River and Cottbus, 13 miles to the southwest.

The Soviets maintain other strategically-located air bases throughout the entire east zone.

Both Guben and Cottbus are approximately 60 miles southeast of Berlin.

BETWEEN TIMES

By MONTE ROBERTS

You find some amazing opportunities in the classifed columns of this newspaper.

Under the "salesmen and agents" classification the other day a firm advertised for a successful producer in any line of selling, and assured him it would provide the opportunity to garner higher than average earnings.

Not only that, said the ad, "our contract provides a guaranteed salary for two years, group insurance, and sickness."

Elizabeth Hurlock, the advice lady who writes for this newspaper, discussed the drink problem the other day.

Her article said "Bride Should Help Husband Cure His Drinking Problem."

It turned out that a bride of 10 months was greatly disturbed by her husband's actions, so she wrote Miss Hurlock, saying: "My husband is wonderful when he doesn't drink, but every three weeks he goes out and gets drunk. I want to leave him every time he drinks."

Miss Hurlock's advice to this bride was: "You must help your husband to lick his problem. Don't walk out on him and leave him to fight it alone. . . . Have him let you know when the urge to drink comes over him. Try to find out what has led up to it, a quarrel you have had, something wrong at work or with his friends, or what. This may give you a clue about what is back of his drinking."

Wonder if Miss Hurlock and the bride ever stopped to think maybe the guy just LIKES to drink?

Advice from the Star Weekly: "If you have any wasp nests to remove, remove them on a cool evening when the wasps will be too sleepy to care what's going on."

Would it help any to croon a lullaby?

Some of our new Canadians have a tough time with the language. Despite their earnest efforts to master the complexities of English, they trip over words with ambiguous meanings.

As for instance the man who went into a Douglas Street establishment the other day and asked for a job.

He was told there were no jobs going.

"But you have a sign, saying help wanted," he protested.

The proprietor finally persuaded him that the sign "WIRE HANGERS WANTED" did not mean that he wanted men to hang wire.

Thanks to the scores of constituents who expressed delight with the new picture at the head of yesterday's column. Unfortunately, the editor says, I perpetrate the stuff that goes here, so must face the consequences.

Starting in September the chamber will hold evening meetings on the second and fourth Friday of each month at the Commercial Hotel.

SQUATTERS WON'T FIGHT WITH CITY

Spokesman Promises Lime Bay Clean-Up; Says Fire Danger Not Extraordinary

A group of pensioners which live in a little shantytown at Lime Bay, at the foot of Catherine Street, has taken no action regarding threatened eviction by the city council.

"We don't want to cause any trouble," said William Brennan, 76, self-appointed spokesman for the group.

According to council opinion the tiny community is a menace to health, and the men have no legal grounds to fight eviction.

"I don't see that there is anything here as bad as the council says," he added. "If there is anything that needs cleaning up, then let them tell us what to do and we'll do it ourselves."

He said, though, that the pensioners could do nothing about rubbish that reached the beach from the land above, or that drifted in on the tide.

"If we were that strong we'd be sitting on the golden bench up in heaven," he laughed. "No one on earth has been able to stop the tide."

He was emphatic in his refusal to consider the Old Men's Home.

NO FEAR OF FIRE

Another complaint against the collection of shacks was the danger of fire through general use of kerosene lamps.

"There is always someone here in case of fire," he said. "There is running water right outside my shack, and I don't think a fire would go very far before we stopped it."

Vincent Sealeaf, another pensioner whose tiny home overlooks the bay, was depressed at the attitude of the city council, which expressed sympathy with the old men's situation but said "the city must protect itself."

"I haven't any plans and I don't know where I'd go," he said, regarding his bright little flower garden fondly. "I'd hate to leave here."

STRANGER WELCOME

While chatting with Mr. Sealeaf, Mr. Brennan saw a well-dressed, elderly stranger come down his path.

"I have no business here," the stranger said, "but I've heard so much talk about this place I thought I'd come and look at it."

"Come on down," Mr. Brennan invited. "We don't have many visitors and enjoy seeing people. Look the place over and make yourself at home."

Liberals Hasten Planning

British Columbia's Liberal Party's advisory council will meet in Vancouver during the second week in September, and a party convention may be called soon after.

It was learned today top Liberal strategists are anxious to gather and plot the party's future course of action. They fear a long delay in laying these plans will result in apathy among supporters.

Announcement of a convention date could come from the advisory council meeting, but it won't unless some party leadership material is available.

convention would be called immediately if there were some good candidates for leadership.

Mentioned prominently as possible leaders have been Chief Justice Gordon McG. Sloan, University of B.C. president Norman Mackenzie, James Sinclair, M.P., and Arthur Laing, M.P.

But none have signified willingness to seek the leadership. Until one of these, or some other Liberal with leadership qualities, comes forward, there will be no convention.

But, highly placed Liberals stress there is plenty of work being done on the leadership question, and it won't be long before some light is thrown on Liberal plans.

Meanwhile, party organizers are busy completing a survey of local associations throughout the province in an effort to determine the morale and wishes of the party's rank and file.

This report will be finished soon and submitted to officers of the B.C. Liberal Association.

CITY GIVES YACHT DOCK 'GO AHEAD'

City Engineer Cyril Jones was given authority today to start work on a float for yachts in the Inner Harbor.

Two prongs of the proposed four-pronged float will be constructed, as well as piling for the remaining two, public works committee agreed.

That amount of work will require the $5,000 approved by City Council. The remainder of the work, costing $1,000, will have to wait until next year.

"I wouldn't ask council for anymore money this year," cautioned Ald. Percy Scurrah, chairman. "We can get another $1,000 next year."

Mr. Jones said the float could be built this fall.

On suggestion of Ald. Jim Neely, however, the plans will be cleared with all interested parties in the city before work is begun.

"et everyone get in their kicks before construction," he said.

Alberni Charge B.C. Bonds Soft Said 'Nonsense'

Provincial government officials here today termed "utter nonsense" a statement made Monday by Alberni city clerk C. Q. Ryan that B.C. investments have dropped considerably due to uncertainty connected with the newly-elected provincial government.

Mr. Ryan told an Alberni city council meeting Monday that sale of Alberni's hospital bonds is not likely to be immediately accomplished.

The Alberni city clerk said that inquiries he had made in Vancouver had led to the decision that not much can be done at present to raise money for Alberni's share of the new West Coast General Hospital by the sale of municipal bonds.

In Victoria today, however, provincial government officials said that if Alberni is having trouble raising money it's merely a question of the municipality's own credit.

STANDING HIGH

Prices of British Columbia bonds on sale across Canada and in the United States are standing up very well compared with bonds of other provinces, finance department officials here pointed out.

A check with investment dealers here today confirmed that B.C. bonds are selling well, at good prices, in today's market.

"New bond issues these days require higher interest rates, of course," investment dealers here explained, "but the higher costs of borrowing and lower bond prices prevailing in today's investment market are common to all Canada and also the United States.

National governments in this country and south of the line have abandoned cheap money policies, investment dealers here point out, and have raised the interest rates to combat inflation by cutting down borrowing, spending and building by municipalities and other groups.

City Takes First Step Toward Dallas Rd. Pool

Proposal to investiigate sites, plans and cost of development of a swimming pool at Horseshoe Bay or Holland Point, got the green light from public works committee today.

Ald. Robert Macmillan, who proposes progressive development of the Dallas Road seashore, was authorized to work with the city engineer and his department on the study.

They will report which site is more feasible, present sketch plans and estimates within a "reasonable" period.

Ald. Macmillan felt his Holland Point proposal for construction of a swimming pool with added developments later was more feasible than Horseshoe Bay.

" feel some difficulties at Horseshoe are insurmountable," he said.

The alderman said a constractor had advised him that excavating for the pool would be a comparativley "simple job" and that he could have a rough pool dug in three days.

The city owns the 13 acres of "c omparatively flat land at Holland Point," Ald. Macmillan said. He felt off-street parking, dressing houses and possibly a tearoom could be added in the future.

"This could be progressive development over four or five years," he told committee.

Ald. Percy Scurrah, chairman, mentioned the protest petitions from residents that could be expected.

"The newspapers can tell the people out there to sit tight," grinned Ald. Macmillan. "Tell the mto sign no petitions. We are not going to make a Coney Island out of the Dallas waterfront.

"For years people have been saying what a beautiful waterfront we had but why didn't we do something to improve it."

Interjected Ald. Jim Neely: "You're not improving the beauty by putting in a swimming pool.

Ald. Macmillan said all he was seeking was authority to study the matter. An overall plan for the area could be drawn, he said but be subject to the views of the Town Planning Commission.

Outcry for More Police Protection Results in Colwood R.C.M.P. Unit

SUB-INSPECTOR MOSES

An R.C.M.P. detachment, long desired by residents of the area, has now been established in the Colwood district, it was reported today by Superintendent Clifford W. Harvison, C.I.B. chief of the B.C. section of the Mounties.

The superintendent said the detachment headquarters will be in the stone house — formerly known as the "Gatehouse"—on the Island Highway near Colwood Corners and at the road leading to Royal Roads Tri-Services College.

Supt. Harvison said that the detachment is in charge of Constable Joseph Shepherd, who formerly took part in R.C.M.P. criminal investigation matters. He is a former member of the old B.C. Police.

Supt. Harvison said the Highway Patrol will work hand-in-hand with the detachment headquarters.

Colwood - Langford residents had agitated for a detachment in the area because of the big increase in population in that area during the post-war period.

The superintendent also reported that Victoria's widely-known Inspector Jake Young, assistant C.I.B. chief here since the Mounties took over policing of the province, is now en route to Truro, Nova Scotia.

Insp. Young, one of the finest pistol shots developed on the local scene, will be commanding officer of the Truro detachment. He went east, after holidays, with his family. He is a former Bisley marksman.

He has been replaced here by Inspector J. N. McClinton, from Kamloops.

Another popular figure in the local athletic world, Sub-Inspector Dan Moses of J.B.A.A. rowing fame, has also left the local scene.

He is now with the Mounties in Ottawa, in the "interior economy" department.

While Supt. Harvison said that things had not as yet "jelled" completely, it was indicated that Cpl. M. R. "Bud" Godfrey, of the lower island R.C.M.P. highway patrol, may shortly be switched to take over the Kamloops detachment. He is presently in command of the patrol section.

Insp. Carl H. E. P. Ledoux, well-known figure in provincial policing, is now in Montreal with the nation police force's criminal investigation branch. He was the Mounties' representative in the investigation of the recent Clyde Gillies' case.

Supt. Harvison said 126 detachments now cover the province, with seven sub-division headquarters governing the various sections.

CORPORAL GODFREY

Observatory Notes Sharp Earthquake

An earthquake of considerable intensity was recorded at 8.26 a.m. today at the Dominion Astrophysical Observatory.

"It would have caused damage if it had occurred in a populated area," said W. G. Milne, seismologist. "It was strong enough to upset chimneys.

Instruments here show the tremor occurred about 400 miles away, and liimted its position to either in the Queen Charlotte Islands area or off the Oregon coast.

"It's magnitude was about 6½, similar to that which shook the northwest in 1949," he said.

Columbia University seismograph in New York placed the eathquake off Canada's west coast, while a Boston College instrument indicated it occurred offshore from Mexico.

Liberals Will Hear Mayhew

Fisheries Minister R. W. Mayhew will address an organizational meeting of the Esquimalt-Saanich Federal Liberal Association tonight at 8 in Colwood Hall.

A committee will be struck to present a list of possible officers for the new group, formed because of the creation of a new federal riding to be known as Esquimalt-Saanich.

Visual Education Program Praised In B.C. Schools

Mrs. Dorothy MacPherson, filmstrip liason officer for the National Film Board in Ottawa, is in Victoria today conferring with educational authorities.

Her department produces the films — sometimes called "still movies" for all government departments—and in addition has a separate budget for visual education.

Mrs. MacPherson reports that about 100 strips per year are produced by the Film Board. "The only criticism I received here is that we should produce more for the schools," she said.

In her opinion, B.C.'s visual education program is "in front of the field" in Canada. The last few years have seen a tremendous increase in the application of visual education through film strips.

P.N.E. Opens With 5-Mile Street Parade

VANCOUVER, Aug. 20 (BUP).—Today is the big day for officials of the Pacific National Exhibition in Vancouver, who have been preparing the big fair for a year.

The annual 11-day event was kicked off at 10 a.m. with a five-mile parade through Vancouver Streets, featuring dozens of floats, hundreds of costumed marchers and all the pomp and ballyhoo of the circus.

The parade wound up at the Exhibition Grounds, where Premier W. A. C. Bennett officially opened the fair.

Officials say they expect some 700,000 persons to click the turnstiles during the exhibition, which winds up on Labor Day.

A 54-inch model of the former C.P.R. liner "Empress of Canada" which operated between Victoria and the Orient before the Second World War, and which belongs to Gerald S. Rees, 2537 Fernwood Road, has been entered in the international hobby show of the Pacific National Exhibition, Vancouver. Mr. Rees took two years to build the model.

DRY FORESTS HALT SAANICH COUGAR HUNT

A cougar is believed to be prowling in the vicinity of Stelly's Cross Road, Central Saanich, it was learned today.

The cougar was first sighted on the road last Friday by Mrs. E. Broadley, police chief Vernon Lawley said today.

A hunt was organized immediately under game warden Joe Jones but cougar dogs brought to the scene were unable to follow the scent due to the dry weather.

Farmers on Stelly's Cross Road complain of the loss of chickens. At first they blamed coons. Now they are of the opinion the marauder is a cougar.

Government To Study Steel Outlook

Lands and Forests Minister R. E. Sommers today announced the government is going to launch a thorough study to find out if B.C.'s existing steel manufacturing capacity can be enlarged to include the smelting of domestic ores.

The minister said the government also is going to look into the matter of iron ore export, and the reserve placed on ores of iron and manganese by the previous government.

"The government will publish its findings, whatever they may be, and if there is anything practical it can do to encourage the smelting of iron ores in the province a policy will be announced," said Mr. Sommers.

He said his department has a great deal of factual information on the subject, all of which will be studied. Other data also will be sought.

"An integrated iron and steel industry, even a small one, is a costly undertaking. To make it a success there must be sufficient supplies of raw material to guarantee a long life, and there must be markets which the products of the industry can be sold on a competitive basis," Mr. Sommers said.

Brothers, Sister In Reunion Here

There was a family reunion today at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. Williams, 419 Johnson Street, to celebrate the first meeting in years between sister and two brothers.

The brothers, Henry and Joe Richards, two railway men from Branton, Michigan, traveled to Victoria to see their sister, Mrs. Williams, whom they had not seen for 43 and 30 years, respectively.

Mrs. Williams came to Canada 33 years ago and has been a resident of Victoria since. She is a Canadian citizen.

HARD RIDIN' PAIR HERE

Youthful Visitors Pedal All Way From California

A 19-year-old American boy, already a publisher in his own right, rode into town Tuesday with his brother all the way from Mountain View, Calif. . . . on bikes.

Nehemiah, 19, and Guy Ames, 17, cycling on the last lap of their journey to Nanaimo, decided they would take the Mill Bay Ferry to Brentwood instead of pushing their bicycles up the Malahat.

"My brother was a bit tired," said Nehemiah, "so we decided to take the ferry. But I would have liked to have seen the view from the Malahat."

The two cyclists left their home town—40 miles the other side of San Francisco—on July 24 for Victoria. Each carried a sleeping bag and slept alongside the highway. Sometimes they ate in restaurants but often they camped and cooked outdoors.

They intend to ride back home after they have had a look around Victoria.

Nehemiah publishes a small mimeographed booklet which he calls "The Ames' Information Booklet." "I print about a thousand," he said. "I have readers all over the world."

His younger brother still goes to school.

Nehemiah plans to put himself through university as a publisher.

GARBAGE GOES 'TOP SECRET'

Garbage is on the "secret" list these days.

Some 3½ miles from city centre an experiment is being conducted in the "ditch and cover" method of garbage disposal. Its location, however, is not known.

Inter-municipal committee is in the process of studying garbage methods. At public works committee meeting Ald. Robert Macmillan, chairman of the city's garbage committee, said it was outside the city limits.

CITY DRIVER SENTENCED TO 30 DAYS

Robert Glen Rodger, 2110 Belmont, twice convicted for drunken driving, was given a 30-day jail sentence by Magistrate A. I. Thomas in city police court today.

Counsel Edwin Popham withdrew an earlier plea of not guilty in favor of one of guilty.

Constable Harry Hoshal of the city police told the court that he found Rodger slumped over the wheel of his car on Fernwood north of Gladstone on the night of July 29.

The officer said that the accused had apparently collided with a power pole, struck a fence and rebounded back onto the pavement. About $500 damage was done to the car.

Counsel Popham explained to the court that at the time his client got into trouble he had been taking "Antibuse" pills in a sincere attempt to stop his drinking habits.

Prosecutor Alan Bigelow, referring to accused's driving record, told the court Rodger had been convicted for drunken driving in March, 1951, and also had careless and dangerous driving convictions marked against him since 1948.

Magistrate Thomas said he would make a recommendation to the motor vehicle superintendent in regard to a driver's license suspension.

Two Pharoahs At Exhibition; No Interviews

Ptolemy II, one of Egypt's pharaohs, and Antiochus II, an even more famous ruler of the Nile, were traveling again Tuesday.

Fittingly, the mummies went first class.

They were removed from the Provincial Museum to play their silent part in Vancouver's P.N.E.

Their former owner, an English recluse, said the mummies carried a curse.

To that suggestion P.N.E. officials said: "Pfui!"

19 FINED FOR INTERFERENCE ON LOG BOOMS

LADYSMITH, Aug. 20—Magistrate G. A. Tisdall fined each of 19 members of the International Woodworkers of America $25 and costs on each of two charges arising out of the recent woodworkers' strike.

The men pleaded guilty Tuesday of intimidation, and of watching and abetting, while on picket duty in Ladysmith harbor during the strike. They were given 48 hours to pay the fines.

F. A. Cunliffe, Q.C., representing heads of companies involved, told the court that the men ran over a boom to be moved by the tug Gleeful in spite of the sheriff's reading of an injunction restricting them from interfering.

"I have no doubt there would have been violence if the tug had not withdrawn," Mr. Cunliffe said.

Although maximum penalty on the charges is three months' imprisonment or $100 fine, the prosecution proposed that only the fine be imposed.

Court Orders Fine In Canada Dollars

It cost Spokane visitor, Lawrence Dixon, $204.50 in U.S. money—plus exchange—when he pleaded guilty in provincial police court Tuesday afternoon to a charge of driving a car while his ability was impaired by alcohol.

Magistrate A. I. Thomas imposed a fine of $200 and $4.50 costs—all to be paid in Canadian currency. According to evidence Dixon drove his car off the Thetis Lake Road Monday night and traveled about 60 feet along a ditch before coming to a halt. R.C.M.P. highway patrol officers laid the charge against the visitor.

Nutty and Naughty Napkins Add Novel Note to Party

By PENNY SAVER

Some are nutty! Some are naughty! All are novel!

Saw two variations of boxed napkins which would add zip and laughter to any party.

One was called a Limerick box and contained 50 napkins.

On the lid of the box was printed:

"These bits of nonsensical rhyme
From the ridiculous to the sublime
May, perhaps, add some verve
And help your guests have a good time."

That was one type. The other box, with 36 napkins, portrayed scenes at parties and rather catchy French sayings.

Each box sells for $1.49.

While we are speaking of party props I guess I should mention another novel touch I noticed.

I'm sure your guests, and the family too, for that matter, would get a kick out of the miniature beer bottles which are salt and pepper shakers. They are all done up with labels and what-have-you. The set is priced at 49 pennies.

★ ★ ★

Say, a man out at Sidney has come up with a good idea!

Do you know what he's done? Well, he gets Pacific crabs and preserves them in plastic discs and then puts the disc on a key chain.

They sell for 49 pennies and Victorians, as well as hundreds of tourists, are really enthusiastic about them.

I don't blame them either. Most people who need a key chain enjoy something novel added to it and this is surely the answer.

★ ★ ★

I don't know whether you've discovered Sandland ware in china, yet, but if you haven't you have no idea what you're missing.

It is a most attractive English china and today I found utility and coaster dishes in this ware selling at a new low price—49 pennies.

Each dish shows a typical English scene or a character sketch.

If you are looking for a gift or something extra for the house here it is.

To Be Wed in Mid-September

Mr. Frank G. Hilliard has announced the engagement of his only daughter, Catherine Anne, to George Herbert Evans, younger son of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Evans, Rockland Avenue. The wedding will take place on September 13 at 1.30 p.m. in St. John's Anglican Church with Canon George Biddle officiating. (Jus-Rite Photo.)

Don't Rush Into Secret Marriage

By ELIZABETH B. HURLOCK, Ph.D.

Rushing into marriage without considering all aspects of the problem is characteristic of youth. When a man reaches middle age, he should not marry unless things are right. That is why I am advising the man who wrote the following letter to watch his step:

Hurlock

(Q)—"Is it good sense for a widower, age 55 years, who has three married children, to marry a woman of 28 years, keep it a secret, and live apart for about one year? It is important financially for me to wait. She insists that we get married within a month. Shall I marry on her terms or break it off? Will it be a happy marriage? I'm strongly against secret marriages at any age."

(A)—I agree wholeheartedly with you on the subject of secret marriage. There is really no excuse for them in our modern, 20th century America. If two people can't marry and live together as man and wife, they should not marry.

If it is important for you to wait for a year before you marry, explain the reason to your fiance and expect her to accept your decision. If she refuses, then you must choose between her and your financial problem. I cannot see why she feels she must rush through this marriage within a month. There are rarely circumstances that justify such a rush, except when the man is going into the service.

Another point that is well worth considering, is the matter of your ages. The woman you are planning to marry is literally young enough to be your child. Can you have much in common? I doubt it. This idea of hers about a secret marriage for a year and rushing into marriage within a month suggest immaturity on her part that may be hard for a man of your age to live with.

Decide just what you can and cannot do. Give in to her wishes if they are reasonable. But, don't allow her to rule you now unless you want to be ruled for the rest of your life. Then, if she does not like the stand you have taken, you will know that she does not love you enough to build a happy marriage. That will be your exit signal.

If you have a problem about family or friend, ask Dr. Hurlock to help you. Write in care of this newspaper.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Proper Foods Will Help You to Have Lovely Skin

Women could soak in oil all day long and use every cream known to man and advertiser, but if their skin is not properly nourished from the inside they are doomed to disappointment.

I do not mean to minimize the value of daily lubrication nor to make a joke of the many new cosmetics which are helpful and promote new theories. If you have a normal or dry skin you must lubricate it regularly as you grow older and the natural oils decrease. That is, unless you are willing to look old years before your time. However, you must also cultivate your complexion with good nutrition.

We cannot say that there is any one food which would guarantee lovely skin. Mainly we need a well balanced scientifically planned diet which promotes health and also a clear complexion. However, there is evidence that some foods have special influence on the epidermis. Very dry skin seems to be benefitted by a generous amount of vitamins A and C.

Vitamin A is richly distributed in the green and yellow vegetables which are lush in the markets now. This is especially true of the green leafy ones. The citrus fruits, tomatoes and cabbage, or their juices, are rich sources of vitamin C.

Cream and butter and eggs have a high vitamin A potency and are also helpful to the dry skin because of the fat they contain. However, women with figure faults cannot use much butter and cream. If you do not have figure faults but do have a dry skin you would profit by an addition to your diet of more cream and butter, salad oils and leafy green vegetables.

If your skin is oily or has a tendency to pimples or blackheads or a blotched appearance you would be wise to take the cream off your milk, cut other fats low in the diet, go light on sugar and rich or fried foods.

If you would like to have my leaflet No. 47 "Your Outer Coating" (care of the skin), send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

TODAY'S RECIPE

GHERKINS

Four quarts small cucumbers, 16 cups boiling water, 1 cup salt, 8 cups blended vinegar, ¼ cup sugar, ¼ cup salt, ¼ cup mustard seed, ½ cup mixed pickling spice, 7 cups sugar.

Wash the cucumbers, scrub well, rinse, drain well and place in a crock. Cover with hot brine made by combining boiling water and salt. Pour over cucumbers, cover and let stand overnight. Drain cucumbers thoroughly and place in clean dry crock. Prepare pickle mixture by combining the cold vinegar, salt, the ¼ cup sugar, mustard seed and pickling spice. Pour over cucumbers. Each morning for the next 14 days, add ½ cup sugar, stirring well to dissolve the sugar. When last of sugar is added, remove spices and pour over pickles. Seal and store. Yield: Approximately 4 quarts.

Maybe you're partial to a molded salad, and will take your fruits, vegetables, cheese, eggs, fish or fowl suspended in translucent gelatin. The results are handsome. Some molds are served as main dishes, some are strictly salad, but the fruit molds can double for dessert at a moment's notice. Mostly you'll serve the gelatin salad with an errant cover of mayonnaise or salad dressing. For a dessert salad, add a little whipped cream to the mayonnaise used for topping.

Most every cook will be tempted to serve Calavo avocados this month because they're so plentiful and reasonably priced. Dice one or cut it into slices and add it to your favorite tossed green salad. Add it at the last minute and give the salad only a couple of quick gentle tosses so the fruit will not be bruised.

Latvian to Display Hand Work; Treasures

Next Monday will be an important day in the life of Mrs. Alvine Riekstin, who came to this country from her homeland, Latvia, in 1948.

On this day, at the Y.W.C.A., she will have an art salon in which she will show articles woven by herself and treasured pieces of china and silver which she brought with her from Latvia and other parts of Europe.

Her hand woven articles will include belts, bookmarks, table runners and cushions. The designs on each of these have all been created by Mrs. Riekstin with Latvian theme predominating.

For the occasion, Mrs. Riekstin will wear an authentic Latvian costume over 22 years old which she brought to this country with her. The entire garment is hand woven, spun and embroidered.

In her homeland she had a clinic of physiotherapy, massage and cosmetics.

"I dream of opening such a place on this continent," said the capable young woman who is leaving later this month to join her husband in Tacoma.

"When I left for this country my husband was unable to accompany me, and it was only recently that he was able to manage a passport to America," she tells you.

"I love Canada," she continued, "but my husband is in America so naturally I will join him as we have been separated for four years."

When she first came to Victoria, Mrs. Riekstein did a year's domestic work, then was employed in a nursing home and for the past year she has been on the staff at St. Joseph's Hospital.

Newcomers Ardent Students

TORONTO (CP) — Three students in Toronto, all from displaced persons camps in Europe and all unable to speak English three years ago, compiled fine records in upper-school examinations here.

The teen-agers, two girls and a boy, achieved marks that were the more impressive because English is the only compulsory subject in the Ontario grade 13 curriculum.

Taisa Turkevich, 17, was born in Poland and left there four years ago, living in a displaced coming to Canada. She could speak French, Polish, Ukrainian, Russian and German, but had to start learning English in an Edmonton public school, later studying higher grades.

After moving to Toronto Taisa went straight into Grade 13 and she gained nine firsts in the nine departmental subjects she took in June. She plans to enter a chemistry course at the University of Toronto.

Maija Svanks, 18, was born in Latvia and with her family went to Germany when the Russians moved in. After five years in Germany she came to Toronto from a displaced persons' camp in Oldenburg. By learning 100 words every day for a week, Maija taught herself basic English and went on from there.

"English grammar is easy," says Maija, "but you have too many words—I am buried in vocabulary." Her ambition is to be a statistician and she aims at a mathematics course at University of Toronto.

The third student is George Anysas, 18, who also came from a displaced persons' camp in Germany and started studying English three years ago.

Woman Can Help to Overcome the World Differences, Dean Says

OTTAWA, Aug. 20 (CP).—Dr. Marion Grant, dean of women at Acadia University, Wolfville, N.S., said yesterday that women have the "opportunity to strengthen lines of communication" between people throughout the world.

Dr. Grant, president of the Canadian Federation of University Women, spoke at the first day of the federation's triennial convention.

C.F.U.W. scholarships are sending students from Canada to universities in other countries to add to international understanding, she said.

In Canada as well there was an opportunity to overcome differences by knowing both official languages—French and English—instead of only one.

In education, much could be done to strengthen the ties between homes and schools. The problem was made worse by a lack of teachers.

"When the schools open shortly," Dr. Grant said, "5,000 classrooms will be without teachers."

The federation's committee on education urged federal grants to education to help equalize standards of teaching across the country.

"It does no seem fair that a difference in tax-paying ability should penalize youth," the committee report said. Although it was argued that federal education grants could be made without encroaching on provincial rights, parliament voted down the proposal last spring.

The report urged the federation to "pursue this proposal."

Mrs. K. Stewart is spending a week on Salt Spring Island, staying at "Aclands".

Walnuts are delicious in chicken or ham salads. Roast them a few minutes in a moderate oven before you chop and combine them with the other ingredients. The bit of roasting seems to enhance their sweet nutty flavor.

How to make it
1. Gradually add ¼ cup chicken broth to ¾ cup Miracle Whip Salad Dressing, blending well. The delicate tang of the "one and only" Miracle Whip makes such a difference in your salad.
2. To serve 4 people, prepare 2½ cups cooked diced chicken, 1½ cups diced celery; ¼ cup broken pecans, ¼ cup stuffed olives. Add ¾ tsp. salt, dash of pepper.
3. Add Miracle Whip mixture, blending lightly. Peel 4 large tomatoes, cut into 5 sections almost to stem end. Place on leaf lettuce, press sections apart, fill with chicken salad. Garnish with Miracle Whip, the famous salad dressing that "can't be copied".

VANCOUVER POLICE CHIEF DEFENDS SUED DETECTIVE

VANCOUVER, Aug. 20 (BUP)—Police Chief Walter Mulligan Tuesday night reaffirmed his "every faith" in the Vancouver Police Department.

The chief was commenting on an assault charge placed against Det.-Sgt. Archie Plummer, head of the police gambling squad, by Roy Genoe, who was acquitted in the bookmaking conspiracy trial early this year.

Chief Mulligan denounced the use of abuse or excessive force in effecting an arrest and said he would personally investigate any hint of alleged brutality. But he added recent claims of police abuse have been investigated, with no cause found for discipling officers.

Genoe charges Plummer with "malicious assault with provocation" while he made a telephone call recently. Another man acquitted in the "bookie" trial, Jack Gold, has filed suit for damages against Plummer for assault.

Yugoslavia at Odds With West

Relations Take 'Slight Turn' for Worse Because of Economic, Military Aid Dispute

By MICHAEL J. O'NEILL

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20 (UP)—Western power relations with Communist Yugoslavia have taken a slight turn for the worse because of a dispute over economic and military aid, it was learned today.

Informed sources revealed the United States has secretly agreed to give Yugoslavia nearly $80,000,000 in new aid. Britain and France are ready to put up another $21,000,000.

In a note last month the Big Three laid down their terms. But the Yugoslavs, hypersensitive to any suggestion of interference in their domestic affairs, balked.

The setback came just as Allied relations with the former Russian partner appeared to be warming up. Western diplomats are working feverishly to prevent the differences from developing into an open rift.

That was one purpose, it is believed, for the meeting the Big Three ambassadors held with Yugoslav Dictator Marshal Tito Monday.

There still is a chance for a compromise, informants said. The Yugoslavs have not yet turned down the Allied terms formally, although they have voiced their objections.

In their July note, it was learned, the Allies said Yugoslavia should take a number of important steps to put its economy and military buildup on a firmer base

Most important, they said, was for Yugoslavia to get its international trade balanced as soon as possible through more exports and fewer imports.

Less Money for Industry Urged

They also urged the Yugoslavs to pour less money into their pet industrial development plan so more cash would be available for imports.

The note also:

1. Urged more emphasis on agricultural production, now being slighted because of the industrial program.

2. Called on Yugoslavia to agree to support an Allied proposal for an international "creditors" conference to settle its foreign debts at one time rather than piecemeal. The Big Three are agreeing to postpone debt payments for at least a year and they suggested other creditor countries be asked to do the same.

3. Insisted that the Allies be kept informed of Yugoslavia's economic condition and what steps it takes to scale down its investment program.

4. Reminded Yugoslavia that aid this year would be less than last and that it would have to gear itself for a steady reduction as time goes on.

The Allies are anxious to nourish their alliance with Tito because of his importance in holding Europe's southern flank against Russia and in inspiring desertions from Communism.

But they feel he should agree to certain conditions in return for aid.

PREFERS JETS

New 'Boss' For Lachine Air Station

LACHINE, Que., Aug. 20 (BUP)—The air force station at this key defense command base got ready today to welcome a new boss who prefers flying jet fighters at 600 miles an hour to the duller life of an attache at an embassy.

The appointment of Wing Commander R. F. Douglas, 39, of Hamilton, Ont., as commanding officer of the Lachine station was announced by R.C.A.F. headquarters in Ottawa Tuesday.

Douglas has spent the last two years as air attache at the Canadian embassy in Belgium. Friends here said he would rather fly at an operational base than handle a desk job and welcomed the change.

Douglas joined the air force in 1937. He went overseas in 1942 and served with the Royal Air Force and the R.C.A.F.'s No. 407 coastal squadron.

He since has commanded air force establishments at Whitehorse, Y.T., and Sea Island, near Vancouver, B.C. He went to Belgium from Sea Island in 1948.

Three Canucks To Ranger Camp

VANCOUVER, Aug. 20 (BUP)—Art Chapman, new general manager and coach of the Vancouver Canucks in the Western Hockey League, said Tuesday three Canucks would go to the New York Rangers' training camp at Guelph, Ont., starting Sept. 15.

The three include one Canuck from last year, speedy rookie forward Larry Popein. The others are 22-year-old goalie Ivan Walmsley from Johnstown of the Eastern U.S. Amateur League, and 22-year-old defenceman Ted Hodgson from Shawinigan Falls of the Quebec Senior Circuit.

KOREA P.O.W.'s SAID TAKEN TO RUSSIA CAMPS

NEW YORK, Aug. 20 (UP).—The editor of an agency which gathers news behind the iron curtain said today some Americans captured by Reds in Korea have been removed to stockades in the Soviet Union.

Zynbgut Nagorsky, head of Foreign News Service, Inc., said his office had learned the prisoners were being taken to the town of Molotov, 750 miles northeast of Moscow, and three smaller villages.

Nagorsky said Russian secret police question each prisoner. Those willing to talk, he said, are transferred to indoctrination centres, and uncommunicative prisoners are held in the stockades.

Veteran Fireboat, Calm Air Limit Loss in Holocaust to $500,000

VANCOUVER, B.C., Aug. 20 (BUP)—An ancient fireboat and a lack of wind were credited today with saving a holocaust in Vancouver's industrial section after the city's third major waterfront fire in four months.

Firemen said "calm air" was largely responsible for flames failing to spread Tuesday night from a frame warehouse of the Albion Lumber and Millwork Company to nearby mills and tin-sheeted buildings in the multi-million dollar commercial district.

The No. 1 fireboat, recently supplemented by a sleek supercraft, steamed up the False Creek channel to the blaze and hose lines from its high-pressure pumps quelled the 100-foot flames.

A company official estimated damage at close to $500,000.

The fire, which started from a spark from a sawing machine, raged unnoticed for several minutes through the deserted, 200-foot structure, and was out of control when first rigs arrived at 7 p.m. A second alarm was turned in immediately and a third rang a few minutes later.

No one was injured.

The company official said 50,000 board feet of finished lumber was stored in the warehouse along with huge stocks of plyboard, wallboard and paint. The company had stockpiled the lumber following the end of the recent 45-day strike of British Columbia woodworkers and were preparing it for shipment.

The company is a lumber retailer and processes the raw lumber into building materials.

The loss of the buildings as well as finished lumber piled on company property nudged the damage figure to the half-million dollar mark.

Firemen managed to save the company's display rooms and the general offices but officials said damage to them from water was high.

The fire was the third along the waterfront in four months. In both other outbreaks, the new fireboat, built at a cost of $300,000, was responsible for stemming the flames.

Grain Storage Proves Problem

Canadian Grain Men Worried About Record Crop in Prospect Plus Huge Stores on Hand

OTTAWA, Aug. 20 (CP)—Canada's grain men, with huge stores of last year's wheat on their hands, face the problem of what to do with a record crop forecast this year when harvesting gets under way in the west in about 10 days.

The Bureau of Statistics estimated Tuesday there was a carryover of 213,000,000 bushels from last year's 562,000-000-bushel harvest. The last crop year ended July 31. A record 656,-000,000-bushel crop is forecast for the 1952-53 crop year.

The carryover—biggest in seven years—compares with 258,000,000 bushels in 1945 and the 1942 record of 424,000,000 bushels.

The total carryover of five major grains—wheat, oats, barley, rye and flaxseed—is almost 405,000,000 bushels. Some of it is in the United States.

Grain handling facilities at Fort William are trying to keep pace with a last-minute rush of last year's grain. It is piling up at the Lakehead faster than it can be shipped.

During the U.S. steel strike, ore boats were diverted to the grain trade and helped keep pace with the rush. But they are back to the ore trade now. Last week grain stores at the Lakehead grew to more than 3,000,000 bushels above the previous week.

Grain officials here said many Prairie farmers are already busy building expanded storage facilities on their farms to hold grain in case elevators can't take it. Extra temporary shelter may be built at inland elevator and lake points.

Last year the government rejected a demand for payment for farm storage. But it may revive its plan to guarantee 25 per cent of bank loans to farmers with stored grain as security. A ceiling last year was set to limit the total amount of loans under the scheme to $20,000,000.

ALASKA SAFE FROM ATTACK GENERAL SAYS

ANCHORAGE, Alaska, Aug. 20 (AP)—Alaska is safe from enemy attack as a result of perfection of the "heartland concept" in the last two years, the acting chief of the United States air force told the Chamber of Commerce here Monday night.

Gen. Nathan Twining said Alaska is too big to plan defenses for every mile of the vast interior and extensive shorelines. The heartland concept was adopted to give the military a strong core near Anchorage and Fairbanks from which operations could be extended quickly to the far corners of the territory.

"You can relax now for the first time because you are safe," he said. "Nobody is going to bother the place."

L. M. Giannini, Head of World's Largest Bank, Dies

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 20 (AP)—Lawrence Mario Giannini, 58-year-old president of the Bank of America—the world's largest bank—died in his sleep Tuesday night in hospital.

In 1936 Giannini became president of the Bank of America, founded by his father, the late A. P. Giannini, in 1904.

Giannini also served as a director of the Trans-America Corporation, which controlled the bank until 1937.

Branches of the bank—more than 600—cover California and are also in London, Manila, Tokyo, Yokohama, Kobe and Shanghai.

Giannini, who started working for the institution as a clerk in 1918, saw its capital assets rise to more than $6,000,000,000 in 35 years.

In 1922 he became personnel director and six years later was named vice-chairman of the board of directors.

Latest Clue Related To Missing Seiner Daisy B Peters Out

VANCOUVER, Aug. 20 (BUP).—A clue to the disappearance of the Vancouver seiner "Daisy B" petered out Tuesday when wreckage found washed ashore in Porlier Pass, in the Gulf Islands of the Georgia Strait, was found to be not from the missing craft.

R. L. Jack, an official of the Canadian Fishing Co., which chartered the vessel, flew over the wreckage and said it was not part of the "Daisy B." He said it looked like part of a wheelhouse from a cabin boat or troller, and seemed to have been torn off with a wrecking bar.

The 55-foot seiner was last heard from on July 3 when she cleared Vancouver harbor with seven men aboard for Vancouver Island fishing grounds.

PRODUCTION BOOST ASKED OF MINERS

Operators in U.S. Against Wage Hike

NEW YORK, Aug. 20 (UP)—United Mine Workers' negotiators took up today the problem of negotiating a new contract with hard coal operators as the industry argued no wage increases were possible under present conditions.

Ten-man union and industry teams were scheduled to discuss a five-point program presented by anthracite operators as a basis for a new contract for 75,000 Pennsylvania miners.

Negotiations for a new contract in the hard coal industry opened here Tuesday. Edward G. Fox, president of the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron Co., and chairman of the anthracite operators' wage agreement committee, was elected chairman of the joint conference.

In a statement to reporters after the two-hour session, Fox outlined a five-point program considered by the industry to cover the major issues necessary to negotiate a contract "without a work stoppage."

The program called for an increase in production "per man day," a simplification of the wage structure, spreading the cost of the health and welfare fund "equitably among all anthracite producers," a joint effort to improve safety conditions in the mines and a joint program for mine mechanization.

For said any increase in wage rates was "unjustifiable without assurance that the industry's mine force will make every effort to increase production."

Hard coal miners at present work a seven-hour "portal-to-portal" day which includes a lunch period. Their average hourly pay is $2.24 per hour based on a daily minimum and production royalties.

It was indicated the miners would seek a wage increase similar to the $1.60 a day gained in February, 1951, when the present contract was amended and a six-hour day.

Canadian Navy's Shipbuilding Hit By Three Quebec Shipyard Strikes

BY BRITISH UNITED PRESS

The navy's shipbuilding program was rippled today by three Quebec strikes involving nearly 6,000 men and a fourth appeared imminent in Ontario.

The latest labor trouble to be-cloud shipyards where about 20 warships were being built threatened the Port Arthur, Ont., Shipbuilding Company. Some 950 of its employees said they would quit work today if they didn't get a raise.

It was not known what they demanded in an ultimatum to the firm. But a conciliation board recently recommended an increase in lakehead journeymen's pay of 16 cents an hour—bringing the rate of members of the C.C.L. Industrial Union of Marine and Shipbuilding Workers to $1.55.

In Montreal, where labor said 2,000 and management said 1,200 Canadian Vickers employees quit Tuesday over a pay dispute, pickets walked wearily in a big circle outside the plant while settlement talks were stalled.

Chief Quebec provincial conciliator Cyprien Miron said after fruitless bids to get the company and the federation of metal trades workers together that the strike sponsored by the Canadian and Catholic Confederation of Labor showed no sign of settlement.

NO IMMEDIATE END

"Unless I can get either party to change their position, I see no immediate end," he said.

The Vickers strike, which according to the C.C.L. union resulted in 1,500 A.F.L. men being called off their jobs to prevent picket-line clashes, started Tuesday morning over a 20-cent raise. It would boost pay in one of the Commonwealth's biggest shipyards to $1.39 an hour.

The two other Quebec strikes kept 2,500 C.C.C.L. men off their jobs at Lauzon, Que., yards of the Davie Shipbuilding Company and the George T. Davie & Sons. They walked out last Friday for a 20-cent raise that would boost their pay to $1.27 an hour.

Pickets were barred from the Lauzon yards by a temporary court order won Monday by the companies.

Roman Catholic Sisters Take Off Crosses to Teach

HAWKESBURY, Ont., Aug. 20 (BUP) — Two Roman Catholic sisters got ready to start work as school teachers today but had to doff their crosses as a condition of being hired.

The two nuns were hired Tuesday by the Hawkesbury School Board to help beat a shortage of teachers.

They will have to shed their crosses in the classrooms because of a regulation in the Ontario High School Act forbidding the wearing of religious emblems of a denominational nature in Ontario high schools. They were engaged on the understanding they will not wear their crosses in the local high school classrooms and will be addressed by their family names instead of names given them by their order. They will be permitted to continue wearing their religious habits.

Parked Car Involved In Three-Way Crash

Damage ranged from slight to medium in a three-vehicle collision Tuesday in front of the Douglas Hotel on Douglas at Pandora, police reported.

Officers said a car driven by Arthur D. Currie, 931 Inverness, was in collision with a vehicle driven by Peter Bugslag, 2271 McNeill, which in turn collided with a parked car owned by Albert M. Davidson, 2643 Fifth.

THE DOCTOR SAYS

'Skin-Writing' State Related to Allergies

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.

A curious but common condition of the skin is described in today's first letter.

Q—When I scratch my skin it turns white shortly afterwards for a few minutes. I have noticed this for several years, and also that the skin is red and itches, particularly at night, if I start to perspire. What is the cause of this?—H. C. W.

A—This is apparently a case of dermographism, or skin-writing, of which there are three varieties—red, white and black. The condition is undoubtedly related to the allergies and some people who have it have other forms of allergy.

Usually, however, it has no harmful effects of any kind, though it is often possible to prevent the condition temporarily by use of one of the anti-histaminic drugs.

* * *

Q—My doctor has advised me to have my uterus out. What changes will take place after this is done? May I still become pregnant after the operation?—Reader.

A—If the uterus is taken out and the ovaries left in place, there should be no serious change in the body other than the cessation of the menses. The uterus is the medical name for womb, however, and there is no chance of becoming pregnant after this organ has been removed.

* * *

Q—Please give me some information concerning patients who have taken cortisone more than two years. I have been taking it for a year and a half and have had excellent results.—Mrs. M. B.

A—You have been taking it just about as long as anyone, and there is little or no published information as yet on persons who have cortisone for longer periods of time.

* * *

Q—A dear friend of mine has had had cyst in one of her breasts for about 12 years. She was told when it first appeared that women of her age (41 at the time) usually get them, and unless it bothered her, not to worry. She was also told that millions of women go around with lumps in their breasts. What is your opinion?—Mrs. T. C.

A—The fact that your friend has had the lump in her breast for 12 years is a hopeful sign, but the advice she received is risky. The presence of a lump in the breast calsl for immediate examination, and usually removal because no one can tell until the tumor has been examined under the microscope whether or not it is cancerous.

* * *

Q—My son, who is 16, is rapidly losing his hair. When he was seven he had scarlet fever. Could there be any conection? There is baldness in the family but not at such an early age.—Mrs. J.

A—It seems doubtful that scarlet fever nine years ago could be responsible for loss of hair in a 16-year-old boy. He should have his scalp looked over by a skin specialist and his general condition checked.

If nothing is found to account for the loss of hair, then it must be assumed that he is getting the family baldness exceptionally early in life.

POLICE JEERED

1,007 Cars Ticketed In Drive

DETROIT, Aug. 20 (BUP)—Embattled motorists are begging for a truce as Detroit's new "parking enforcement bureau" wrote out tickets at a record clip in its declared war on parking violators.

A detachment of 31 policemen on three-wheeled motorcycles launched a full-scale offensive in the motor city's loop Monday in an effort to reduce traffic congestion in the downtown area.

"Do your duty without fear or favor," was their order.

The score at the end of the day was 1,007 cars ticketed and 48 others towed off to the police pound.

The bureau fell under immediate fire. Patrolmen were jeered by motorists and pedestrians alike. The police switchboard was jammed with angry protests.

"Quit writing tickets and go catch a crook," one officer was told.

"Look at the Boy Scouts," another group of onlookers said.

Most bitter critics of the wholesale ticketing were downtown hotelmen. They complained the bureau was driving patrons to outlying hotels.

Truant Falcon 'Hecate' Seems To Enjoy Freedom in City Sky

Hecate, the razor-taloned pet falcon of museum naturalist Frank Beebe is having a wonderful time solo flying about Victoria.

The falcon who failed to return from a training flight to his Langford home last Friday, was sighted Monday by Frank Nuttall, 3931 Blenkinsop Road, in a grove of trees on Ascot Drive, near Cedar Hill Cross Roads.

He has not been reported since.

Mr. Nuttall said he was driving in his car along Ascot when he saw the bird on a stump. Hecate soared and finally alighted on tree top, he said.

"I take an interest in birds," said Mr. Nuttall. "I thought this was a strange fellow for these parts."

Mr. Nuttall said the falcon appeared to be enjoying his freedom and did not seem interested in making friends with man.

Mr. Beebe would like to hear any further reports on his pet. The falcon was found as a baby during a recent expedition to the Queen Charlotte Islands.

F.O.E. Units To Take Part In Exhibition

A drill team and band from Victoria Aerie No. 12 of the Fraternal Order of Eagles left here early today by chartered aircraft to take part in the Pacific National Exhibition at Vancouver.

The 30-piece drum and bugle band under "Gabby" Pennock and the 20-member Ladies' Auxiliary drill team led by Major Morris Hallam will take part in the P.N.E.'s big opening parade Wednesday afternoon.

Both units will appear at the exhibition's outdoor theatre and in other competitive events during their three-day stay on the mainland.

The drill team, formed in 1948, has made more than 100 appearances on the Island, the mainland and in the United States, and has held the B.C. championship each year since with the exception of 1950.

SLIGHT GAINS POSTED, N.Y.

NEW YORK, Aug. 20 (AP)—Railroads provided a convenient crutch today for the stock market to limp ahead.

Volume was restricted to an estimated 1,000,000 shares.

Steels and motors held to their gains, and the radio-television section displayed fairly good gains from time to time.

Higher were New York Central, Northern Pacific, Philip Morris, Du Pont, American Smelting, Youngstown Sheet & Tube, General Motors, and Radio Corp.

Lower were American Machine & Foundry, Standard Oil (N.J.), Kennecott Copper, and Eastman Kodak.

Standard Oil of Indiana was lower after the announcement that the company was considering plans to offer nearly $140,000,000 in 30-year debentures convertible into capital stock for a period of 10 years.

Canadian issues were mixed.

Toronto Firmer

TORONTO, Aug. 20 (CP)—Prices improved slightly today in active trading toward the stock market's close.

Volume totalled about 3,100,000 shares.

Senior golds strengthened after a weak opening but secondary issues were mixed. Heath, a prospect, traded more than 200,000 shares for penny gains, while Donalda, a prospect, and Halcrow, a holding company, dipped on a similar turnover.

Steels and textiles led the industrial recovery as papers, foods and miscellaneous issues slipped. Utilities, banks, manufacturing and retail stores held firm.

Base metal leaders and lower-priced issues showed losses as Dominion Asbestos, Hudson Bay, International Nickel, United Asbestos and Mayo slipped.

Many western oil leaders held firm in the section's decline. Speculative support buoyed a number of secondary issues but others dipped as speculative interest waned. Britalta, Central Leduc and Wilrich held firm.

Montreal Mixed

MONTREAL, Aug. 20 (CP)—Mixed adjustments marked slow trading towards the close today on the stock exchange and curb market.

Price changes were generally limited to fractions and a good many issues remained unchanged. Hudson Bay Mining dipped 1⅛ points to 61⅛ for the only major move.

Senior oils, beverages and miscellaneous industrials posed a fair list of gains.

Papers and steels were spotted with declines.

Utilities and carriers continued to trade at previous closing levels. Senior metals were trendless.

Gains and losses ranging from pennies to about 10 cents were evenly spread out in western oils. Trading was slow. Del Rio, New British Dominion and Western Homestead firmed, but Okalta, Sweet Grass and Central Explorers were off. Mines posted a fair amount of declines.

Vancouver Slow

VANCOUVER, Aug. 20 (Noon Close)—Trade was draggy at Vancouver in the early session today. Western oils were slow except for scattered fractional advances. Base metal features attracted some investment support. Industrials were mixed to weaker.

In the oils, Central Leduc at $4.80 was up 10; Okalta slipped 10 to $4; Yankee Princess at $1.17 was off 3; Continental at $2.10 was down 8.

In the mines, Quatsino was stronger at 69c, up 5; Pacific Nickel, active, traded at 72c, up 6; Western Uranium was unchanged at $4.85.

London Quiet

LONDON, Aug. 20 (Reuters)—The new trading account on the London stock exchange opened today with business much quieter in almost all markets.

Most interest was centred in foreign bonds. Investment support on a fairly broad scale was given to Germans which showed gains of up to three points. Greek bonds took their first loss since the foreign debts settlements news yesterday. Nevertheless they finished one point-up on the day. Japanese generally maintained their earlier improvements although there was some profit taking.

Gilt-edged issues moved quietly ahead, mainly on a shortage of stock. The section closed with gains of 1-16 to ¼.

LONDON, Aug. 20 (AP)—Stock closings: Babcock & Wilcox 70s, Boots Pure Drug 19s 1½d, Canadian Pacific $64⅛, Central Mining £1 27/32, Consolidated Gold Fields 46s 10½d, Courtaulds 35s 6d, Hudson's Bay Co. 211s 3d, Imperial Chemical 44s 7½d, Imperial Tobacco 53s 10½d, Metal Box 53s 6d, Mexican Eagle 22s 6d, Rand Mines 98s 9d.

Bonds: British 2½ per cent Consols £58½, British 3½ per cent War Loans £75¾, British Fundings 4s 1960-1990 £98⅝.

B.C. Mining Speeded

By BURKE CAHILL, Times Business Editor

Heavy world demand and higher prices for strategic metals have boosted mining development in B.C. to record heights, according to the annual report of the provincial department of mines, just issued.

Cahill

The one hundredth year of organized production in the British Columbia mineral industry, 1951, surpassed all other years in the value of output, the department reports.

Total mineral production of this province in 1951 was worth $175,659,591, up 11½ per cent over 1948, the previous record year.

Average prices for copper, lead and zinc in the latest annual survey were the highest for any year on record. The number employed in the British Columbia mining industry rose to 17,863 in 1951 from 16,612 in 1950.

Dividends paid by mining companies here climbed to $40,921,238 in 1951 from $34,399,330 in the previous year.

Last year also marked the start of a sharp step-up in development and production of iron ore in B.C. For many years iron output here has been negligible, but last year 113,535 tons with a value of $790,000 were mined on Vancouver Island and exported to Japan.

In January, 1951, preliminary surveys and diamond drilling were carried out at the Iron Hill property near Upper Quinsam Lake, about 24 miles from Campbell River. Loading facilities and dock were built at tide-water just north of Campbell River and linked with the mine site by a 23-mile road, a magnetic concentrator was built at the mine and first shipment went out Sept. 1, 1951.

Recent higher prices for base metals have encouraged mining in B.C. of many known deposits which had not been previously worked or had been abandoned. The prospect of better returns has also greatly stimulated the search for new ore bodies in long established areas and spread the mineral search over many untouched areas of the province.

TUNGSTEN MINED

Increased price has resulted in resumption of tungsten production at the Emerald property, south of Nelson, and at the Red Rose property in the Hazelton area.

While base metal and silver mines in B.C. have benefited from higher metal prices, gold mines here have suffered from soaring costs without any compensating gain in price for the yellow metal. The squeeze on the gold miners has caused several mines to shut down. Others have been forced to stick to the mining of higher grade ore. The net result for the gold producers has been a cut back on development and exploration.

NEW EQUIPMENT

Among producers of metals other than gold, British Columbia's industrial boom together with the metal price gains have sparked huge spending for mining plants and equipment.

At silver, lead, zinc and tungsten sites in the province eight mills newly built or re-equipped were brought into production in 1951 and several others are under way.

Large-scale expansion of the lead-smelting and slag-fuming plants at the Trail smelter, more capacity for the zinc refinery there, the big hydro-electric development on the Pend d'Oreille River, and other additions, were launched by the giant Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company last year.

Other major extensions of mining activity in B.C. include the doubling of capacity by the B.C. Cement Company, plants for fertilizer production at Kimberley and a battery of by-product coke ovens at the Michel Colliery.

U.S. enonomist Roger W. Babson, who forecast the 1929 stock market crash, took a look at the nation's economy recently and predicted continued prosperity for at least another six months.

"Some day we're in for a bust but it won't happen right now," said the 77-year-old former prohibition party presidential candidate in an interview. "We'll stay right where we are for the next six months or so."

Babson based his outlook on prevailing high wages and relatively low unemployment. He said savings were at an all-time high.

Millionaire Texas oilman Hugh Roy Cullen was reported in "satisfactory" condition in the general hospital at Vancouver, B.C., today after word leaked out he had been a patient in the hospital for 12 days.

Doctors said the 71-year-old financier oilman was admitted to the hospital Aug. 7 while on a holiday trip. The doctors said Cullen was suffering from an internal ailment of unknown nature, and said, "we think and hope he'll be all right."

GRAIN

WINNIPEG, Aug. 20 (CP).—Prices generally were lower today on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange although some early losses were reduced in late trading.

Commercial demand was limited. Buying in barley was attributed to export accounts in connection with some light overseas export business. American interests picked up the deferred months of oats.

LIVESTOCK

CALGARY, Aug. 20 (CP).—Trade continued not too brisk on the local livestock market today and prices were $1 or more lower in some classes. Offerings were 740 cattle and calves.

Good to choice light butcher steers were steady to weak, good heavy butcher steers 50 cents to $1 lower, and in-between kinds $1 or more lower. Good butcher heifers were barely steady. Cows were around $1 lower, bulls about steady. Good light stocker and feeder steers were steady. But plain kinds were draggy. Veal calves were steady at the week's decline.

Hogs gained 25 cents Tuesday, closing at $25.25, while sows dropped 50 cents at $14.50. Good lambs were steady at $26.50 to $26.75.

Steel Costs Seen Spreading

NEW YORK, Aug. 20 (AP)—The Iron Age, metalworking trade weekly, said today that "talking big about holding the price line, the administration has been manoeuvred by unyielding economic facts of life into springing the lid on the next round of inflation."

Starting the entire cycle, the publication said, was what it called "the super-generous wage rise '(suggested)' by the wage stabilization board" in the steel industry.

It continued: "This boomerang will increase costs to thousands of manufacturers and now threatens to afflict many with higher wage contracts . . .

"Higher costs have been borne by manufacturers without a whimper since July, 1951 . . . Now there are in addition to higher labor and transportation costs new increases in steel, copper and aluminum. Many firms are at the breaking point . . ."

The Iron Age said Washington "was almost helplessly watching a new concept of price controls take shape."

Price increases authorized this week advanced the Iron Age finished-steel base price composite by approximately $5 a new ton to a figure of 4.376 cents a pound.

Steelmaking operations this week were placed at 98.5 per cent of rated capacity, a gain of 2½ cents from the preceding week.

$ EXCHANGE

NEW YORK, Aug. 20 (CP)—The Canadian dollar was unchanged at a premium of 4¼ per cent in terms of United States funds in foreign exchange dealings today. The pound sterling was unchanged at $2.78⅝.

West should have known, and maybe you can put yourself in his place to see just how he could tell.

West opened the jack of spades, dummy covered with the queen, and East won with the king. East promptly returned the queen of clubs, and South won with the ace. West had the impression from this play that his partner held the jack of clubs.

West thought that it didn't matter very much, but he signalled encouragement with the nine of clubs.

South promptly began on the trumps by laying down the ace and king, after which he drove out East's jack. West discarded low clubs on the second and third round of trumps.

East got out of his hand safely by leading his fourth trump, and South won with the ten. South now led the seven of clubs, and West made the mistake of playing low on the theory that his partner held the jack.

This gave declarer a chance to win in dummy with the ten of clubs and return a diamond. South was thus enabled to make a trick with his king of diamonds, and thus to fulfill his contract.

If West had known that South held the jack of clubs, he would have taken the second club trick with his king. South would then never get to dummy, and would eventually have to lead diamonds from his own hand.

How could West tell who had the jack of clubs?

West knew that he had signalled encouragement for the clubs as early as possible. If East had held the jack of clubs, he would have led it promptly on being given his trump trick. East's failure to lead the jack of clubs at that time should have made it clear that he did not hold it. It should therefore have been easy for West to work out the correct play.

IN TUNE WITH THE TIMES

By RON BAIRD

A short feature broadcast on the Glyndebourne Opera Company is included in an evening of great music tonight on C.B.C. Wednesday Night from 6.15 to 10 p.m.

Paul Scherman and the C.B.C. String Orchestra (6.30-7) open with the Adagio and Fugue in C Minor and Eine Kleine Nachtmusik by Mozart. Then a 15-minute program outlining the history and setting of the Glyndebourne Opera Company (8-8.15) serves as an introduction to the highlight of the evening.

It is narrated by famed B.B.C. actor James McKechnie, who links together the comments of John Christie, founder of the company; Moran Caplat, its general manager; singers Marina de Gabarain and Alda Noni and others, to give a composite picture of Glyndebourne, where a five-week festival of opera is held each summer.

Highlight of this C.B.C. Wednesday Night is a concert version of Mozart's Don Giovanni (8.15-9.15).

The original production from which the excerpts were recorded for the B.B.C. Transcription Service was given by the Glyndebourne Company at the Fifth Edinburgh International Festival of Music and Drama.

Don Giovanni is sung by Mario Petri and Donna Anna by Hilde Zadek, with the Royal Philharmonic Orchestra conducted by John Pritchard.

The excerpts from Don Giovanni are to be followed by a performance of Beethoven's Kreutzer Sonata, with violinist Albert Pratz (9.15-10).

Wednesday Night includes (7.30-8) a recital of piano music by Brahms.

Lubka Kolessa will play the Waltzes (Opus 39) and Rhapsody in G Minor (Opus 79).

★ ★ ★

N.B.C. will once again present the best in Pacific Coast Conference football games this fall.

The broadcasts will open September 30 and continue each week thereafter for the entire season, concluding with the traditional Big Game between California and Stanford, November 22.

★ ★ ★

Radio station WCHS, at Portland, Maine, will present its Portrait of a City tonight on KOMO at 7.35, featuring the voices and sounds of this seacoast metropolis.

Portland's scenery, its historical position, and the contrast between summer and winter life there will be emphasized. Music will be offered by the Men's Singing Club and a piano selection from the home of Henry Wadsworth Longfellow will be included.

On KIRO at 10.15, C.B.S. radio broadcaster Art Hannes will discuss "Military Significance of the Polar Regions" on You and the World.

Mr. Hannes was with the Byrd expedition to the South Pole, has an extensive library on the Arctic regions and is a recognized authority on the subject.

Radio times and programs are furnished by stations and networks and are subject to last minute changes. The Times assumes no responsibility for inaccurate listings.

Pete Horeck To Retire From Hockey

SUDBURY, Aug. 20 (CP)—Pete Horeck, veteran forward with Chicago Black Hawks of the National Hockey League, Tuesday said he is retiring from the game.

"The game has been good to me," he said, "and I'd like to get out while I am on top."

Horeck, who now makes his home in Chicago, said he has not made any plans but is working on a business deal which he declined to discuss.

The right-winger on last year's last-place Hawks first entered pro hockey with Cleveland Barons in 1942. He was drafted to Chicago in 1944 and was traded to Detroit for Adam Brown two seasons later. In 1949 he went to Boston and last season went back to Chicago.

Last year, Horeck, a native of Massey, played 60 games, scoring nine goals and assisting in 11 others.

Olympic Champ Places Third

VANDALIA, O., Aug. 19 (CP).—George Genereux of Saskatoon, Sask., Canada's only gold medal winner in the Helsinki Olympics, placed third Tuesday in a junior event at the 53rd Grand American trapshoot. Monday the 17-year-old Genereux won the Junior Champion of Champions title.

Tuesday in the junior event for marksmen 15 to 17 years of age, honors went to Bob Autrey, 16, of Atlanta, Ga., who scored 197 to finish one target ahead of Paul Kozlowski, of Oconomowoc, Wis. Genereux was third with 193.

Kevin Riley New Champion

VANCOUVER, Aug. 20 (BUP)—Kevin Riley of Point Grey course was crowned B.C. junior match play golf champion Tuesday when he eked out a one-up victory over Bill Kemp of Burquitlam over the Marine Drive layout.

Riley, winner of the Junior Chamber of Commerce international championship at Eugene, Oregon, last week-end, came from behind on the 19th hole to win.

Kemp, a dark horse, held a one-hole lead on the 16th but dropped the next two of three holes to lose.

'DER BINGLE' TO PLAY AT VANCOUVER

VANCOUVER, B.C., Aug. 20 (BUP).—The Canadian amateur championships, scheduled for Monday at Vancouver's mountain-clinging Capilano golf course, had its box office rating boosted Tuesday when crooner Bing Crosby wired his entry to tourney officials.

"Der Bingle," a top-flight amateur shotmaker, is one of 70 Americans entered in the annual event. More than 100 from Canada have sent in applications.

Crosby has played in four British Opens and took the coveted Jasper Totem Pole Trophy at Jasper, Alta., four years ago.

Officials of the tournament consider this year's field one of the strongest in history.

The Willingdon Cup matches for provincial team supremacy will be played Saturday along with the Canadian Junior Amateur. The Senior Amateur will be man against man with no qualifying round.

Bus Drivers Hold Annual Golf Tourney

Bus drivers, meter readers and the clerk who makes out light bills will forget about their workday worries Saturday when B.C. Electric employees take to the golf course for their annual golf tournament.

Sauer, Doby Top Sluggers In Majors

NEW YORK, Aug. 20 (AP).—Hank Sauer, of Chicago Cubs, and Larry Doby, of Cleveland Indians, who lead their respective leagues in both home runs and runs batted in, are making runaway races of the major league slugging derbies.

Slugging statistics compiled by The Associated Press Tuesday disclose that Sauer tops the National League with a lusty .581 mark, 69 points better than his nearest competitor.

Sauer has amassed 251 total bases in 432 at bats and included among his 125 hits are 27 doubles, three triples and 31 home runs.

Doby, the American League pace-setter with a robust .575 average, owns a 50-point bulge over his closest rival. The smooth-working outfielder has collected 111 hits for 223 total bases in 388 trips. His hit total includes 18 doubles, eight triples and 26 homers.

Brooklyn's Gil Hodges is closest to Sauer in the National League. The Dodger first baseman has accumulated 192 total bases in 375 appearances to the plate for a .512 figure.

St. Louis Browns' Vic Wertz, recently obtained from Detroit Tigers, is runner-up to Doby for American League slugging laurels with an average of .525. The veteran outfielder has accounted for 157 total bases in 299 at bats.

BURRARD RECOUNT DENIED BY JUDGE

Mayor Will Back Service

Promises to Throw Full Weight Behind Needy Island Communities

Mayor C. L. Harrison will throw his weight behind the communities of Vancouver Island's West Coast in their drive for immediate steamship or highway connections, following reports of removal of the Canadian Pacific steamship service.

"We are facing an intolerable situation," R. Barr, of Tofino's board of trade told the Times by telephone today. "We are isolated."

"We must have a steamship or road connection to survive. The whole economy of the West Coast is at stake.

"Coast communities are making immediate joint representations," he said, "wherever they will do most good."

'IMMEDIATE' ACTION

The mayor said he would take the matter up with the government "immediately" in view of a report that the Princess Maquinna will be taken off the West Coast run and will not be replaced.

"It will be a disastrous blow—a calamity to the people of West Coast communities," the mayor said.

"It was bound to happen.

"We should have had a West Coast road long ago—procrastination has been our undoing at times."

The mayor declared he was "no isolationist for Victoria." The whole Island, he says, must be considered. He flayed politicians of the past who "won elections" on West Coast road promises and never fulfilled them.

Taking off the Maquinna, the mayor feels, brings to a head what he has been "advocating for years."

"Some people belittled my ideas on West Coast development in my inaugural address," he stated. "They are vital to Victoria and the Island."

WANTS ROAD

The mayor called for building the West Coast road from Jordan River to Port Renfrew, Bamfield and Port Alberni.

North of the Alberni Canal, he said the Tofino—Long Beach road should be built to serve Ucluelet, Long Beach and Tofino.

Thirdly, he said, a road should join Beaver Creek Valley Road with Comox and thence run to the north end of the Island to serve Quatsino, Port Alice and Hardy Bay.

"Politicians have been promising the West Coast road for years," said the mayor. "It is disgraceful."

West Coast communities should be served by a road, he maintained, owing to the heavy seas encountered on the coast.

He said Victoria cannot live to itself alone and added that he intended to carry out every promise he made with regard to Island development in his inaugural address.

BOILER CHECK FACES STORIED SS. MAQUINNA

Will Leave 39-Year Run September 24

Canadian Pacific Ss. Princess Maquinna will be taken off the Vancouver Island West Coast run Sept. 24 for a boiler inspection which will almost certainly end her 39-year career.

With her departure, steamship service along the West Coast will end.

There are no ships available to replace her, and the C.P.R. will not build or buy a replacement as the run has been operated at a loss for some years.

Maquinna is certifited by Steamship Inspection for operation until January, but Capt. O. J. Williams, general manager of B.C. Coast Service, is not satisfied with her condition.

"We cannot risk a breakdown in those rugged waters," he said this morning. "She might be okay for two or three years more but we must not take chances."

WOULDN'T PAY

Capt. Williams believes that a boiler inspection will show that the only way to keep the ship operating in waters where storms roll in from the Pacific would be to re-boiler her. And the run does not justify the expense. Nor would it pay to build a new ship.

"The run is worked out, and has been for several years," he said. "We decided to keep it operating as long as Maquinna could do the job, and would have maintained the service longer if the safety factor had not been involved."

Declining revenues on the West Coast are the result of trends in transportation. Maquinna passengers these days are almost all vacationers. Business men travel by car or air.

Polio Will Not Delay School Start

British Columbia's schools will open Sept. 2, on schedule, unless the polio situation in this province deteriorates to any extent.

Education department and health department officials confirm that no province-wide delay is necessary.

However, Dr. G. F. Amyot, deputy minister of health, pointed out that the polio situation in the Kimberley area was graver than elsewhere on the B.C. scene. There had been seven deaths there.

It is possible Kimberley may take action at the local level. They may seek postponement of school opening until the epidemic subsides.

Jet Crashes

LONDON, Aug. 20 (AP) — Four R.A.F. men died in two jet crashes today, bringing the toll to six crashes and 11 deaths in two days.

A twin-jet Canberra bomber, one of Britain's newest and fastest, plunged into a field near Royston, Hertfordshire, killing all three aboard.

BRAZILIAN QUINTS STAND GOOD CHANCE OF SURVIVING

SAO PAULO, Brazil, Aug. 20 (AP)—Hospital authorities here report that a 38-year-old woman gave birth to girl quintuplets Tuesday night. Doctors said they stand a good chance of surviving.

The babies, weighing less than three pounds each, were born within the space of three hours in the interior village of Sao Carlos, authorities said. The parents are Jose Albano, 38, a negro laborer and his wife, Maria.

The world has two other sets of living quintuplets—Canada's Dionnes, who celebrated their 18th birthday in May, and Argentina's Diligentis—now eight years old.

ST. LAURENT SPEAKS HERE SEPTEMBER 5

Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent will address a public meeting at 2.30 p.m., Friday, Sept. 5, in the Royal Theatre.

This will be one of his two public appearances in Victoria during his western tour next month. The meeting will be sponsored by the Women's Canadian Club.

Arriving on the morning boat from Vancouver, the prime minister will officially open the new Federal Building at 11 a.m., Sept. 5, and at noon he will be guest of Fisheries Minister R. W. Mayhew at a private luncheon at the Empress Hotel.

In the evening Prime Minister St. Laurent will be a guest of honor at a Government House dinner.

He will leave the city by car at 9 a.m., Saturday, Sept. 6, for a day of short visits to up-island centres.

CLASH FEARED BETWEEN TWO T.L.C. UNIONS

Plumbers Given 10-Cent Boost

Possibility of an open clash between two T.L.C. unions appears likely before the week is out.

Trouble is brewing between striking carpenters and plumbers, who have been kept away from new construction projects for the last nine weeks because of carpenter pickets.

The plumbers want to get back to work. They've been offered a 10-cent-an-hour raise if they return to work.

Such a raise would make them the second highest paid plumbers in Canada.

Their hourly rate would jump to $2.10.

According to master plumbers' president John Noble, the union has already agreed to accept the raise and the immediate back-to-work stipulation.

Union officials acknowledge the offer but decline to state their position.

It was believed a meeting was scheduled this afternoon between officers of the plumbers' union and the carpenters' union to discuss the possibility of coming to some arrangement whereby carpenters would allow plumbers to work on specific struck jobs.

LITTLE HOPE

Past attitude of carpenters offered little hope of such an arrangement however.

In which event, the only course open to plumbers would be to ignore carpenter picket lines.

Mr. Noble, in an announcement issued on behalf of the plumbing contractors, said it had been "settled" that there was to be an immediate resumption of all work now in dispute.

He said that plumbers were ready to go back to work on such jobs as the Oak Bay Junior High School, the Army's new radar building and Work Point housing project in Esquimalt, and the new naval barrack block at H.M.C.S. Naden.

BEHIND PICKET LINE

All of these projects are at present picketed by carpenters and are shut down entirely.

While hope is high for an end to the carpenters' strike on the mainland, there is no such hope here.

Local carpenters have been offered a 15-cent raise to give them $1.90 an hour but they maintain they will not return to work until they get $2.10. In Vancouver, striking carpenters have been offered $2.10 but are arguing over a board-and-lodging clause.

FOREST FIRES

Burns Lake Blaze May Be Near Control

B.C. Forest Service hopes to control the devastating 60,000-acre Burns Lake fire sometime Thursday.

"If weather conditions do not change, and our luck holds out, we may be able to bring it under control tomorrow," an official said.

Rain fell on the fire area for 20 minutes Tuesday, helping firefighters considerably.

The fire hasn't yet been completely "trailed," but firefighters are now able to work close to the blaze, "which is a good sign," the forest service reported.

Firefighters expect to control the 1,200-acre Badger Creek fire, near Princeton, today.

The 900-acre Great Central Lake fire is "being controlled."

The Vernon Lake blaze in the Nimpkish district is "now quiet," the forest service said. It blackened 3,800 acres before being controlled.

Vancouver Stocks Closing Prices

Only bright spots in a dull stock market session at Vancouver Exchange late today were Quatsino, base metal feature in recent trading, which closed at 68 cents, ahead 7, and Pacific Nickel, actively traded for a gain of 9 to 75 cents.

Balance of the stock list was inactive. Industrials failed to appear on the tape in any volume and western oils turnover was negligible for the session.

Gordon Eekman . . . says "thanks a lot."

Boy Who Lost $20 Bill Finds Friend

An 11-year-old boy who wants to be an astronomer when he grows up has a $20 bill today because of the generosity of a kind city woman.

Last week, Gordon Eekman of 1026 Oliphant lost $20 on Douglas Street while on his delivery route for a suburban drug store.

The $20 belonged to the druggist he worked for and the youngster, afraid that he would be scolded for carelessness, told no one but his mother of the loss.

He replaced the money by writing a cheque on his hard-earned $23 bank account—he was saving up to help put himself through university.

On Tuesday, after reading an account of the loss in last Friday's Times, a middle-aged woman came to this newspaper and left a $20 bill for Gordon.

She wants to remain anonymous but added: "I haven't any grandchildren of my own but if I had, I know how they would feel after losing that amount of money."

Gordon picked up the $20 today.

And he wants her to know how much he appreciates her kind gesture.

A retiring youngster, Gordon goes into Grade VII at Central Junior High School when school starts in September. He wants to go to university and study astronomy after he finishes high school.

He has been following the subject for more than two years now and attends all lectures on astronomy at Victoria College.

His six-day-a-week job during the summer holidays will help boost his bank account for the day when he enters university.

Shortly after the money was left at the Times Tuesday, a widow, Mrs. Annie Wood of 3461 Quadra, phoned the paper to say she wanted to help Gordon out too.

So today, the boy who is saving his money to become an astronomer when he grows up has his $20 back again because a kind woman with no grandchildren of her own "adopted" one for a few minutes Tuesday.

Shyly, Gordon told the Times, "Gee, I wonder who she was? I'd like to tell her—well, thanks a lot."

FINAL ★★★★ BULLETINS

McElroy, Mawhinney Advance

SEATTLE, Aug. 20 (CP)—Walter McElroy of Vancouver today advanced to the fourth round of the United States amateur golf championship by defeating Ken Silvestri of San Francisco 2 and 1.

McElroy, 1951 Canadian amateur champion, shot sub-par golf for eight holes in beating Silvestri.

Canada's 1950 titlist, Bill Mawhinney of Vancouver, turned in a minor surprise by defeating the Hollywood fireman, Bruce McCormick, 3 and 2. It was a surprise because the lanky Mawhinney had missed the Americas Cup matches last week due to a lame back and was a doubtful starter in the national until the last minute.

Victoria Men Get Jail Sentences

KELOWNA, B.C., Aug. 20 (BUP)—Two Victoria men have received six-month jail terms in Kelowna after pleading guilty to trying to break into a lunch counter last week-end. Richard Sanders, 21, and Ronald Hugo Johnson, 20, were caught "red-handed" by Mounties after a citizen noticed their activity.

Death Ends Seattle House Chase

SEATTLE, Aug. 20 (AP)—A West Virginia divorcee was shot to death in a wild chase through a Seattle rooming house early today, and police said her former husband then turned the pistol on himself.

The slain women was identified as Mrs. Olga Gravis, 26, who came from McMechen, W. Va. Sam Garvis, 32, was in critical condition with a head wound.

Appeal to Cabinet Planned by C.C.F.

VANCOUVER, Aug. 20 (CP)—County Court Judge J. A. McGeer today ruled against a recount of ballots cast in Vancouver-Burrard riding in the June 12 British Columbia general election.

The C.C.F. asked for a recount after Social Credit candidate Bert Price edged out the C.C.F. candidate, Grant MacNeil, by 246 votes.

Judge McGeer in dismissing the recount application said: "The difficulty here is the impossibility of conducting a recount when there has not been a compliance with the Elections Act in sealing, packaging and endorsing the ballots . . . You cannot get the ballots back where they belong."

If the C.C.F. had won on a recount in Vancouver - Burrard they would have held 19 seats in the legislature to Social Credit's 18.

PRECEDENT

The present elections act required that counted ballots be returned to the same envelope from which they were taken. Under the alternative voting system with its distribution of ballots this was found impossible.

Judge McGeer based his ruling on a judgment in the Vancouver-Point Grey riding. The B.C. Appeal Court found ballots could not be returned to their proper envelopes and Progressive Conservative A. R. MacDougall was declared elected.

The C.C.F., however, plans further action to obtain a recount in Vancouver-Burrard.

C.C.F. leader Harold Winch said the Social Credit government has been asked to take cabinet action under section 148 of the Election Act. This section permits the lieutenant-governor to remove contradictions and impediments in the act.

"This is the only step left for us now," said Mr. Winch. "And this shows again the rotten draftsmanship in the act."

There was speculation today that Premier W. A. C. Bennett might call another election in Burrard to settle the controversy.

The Burrard seat has been hanging fire for six weeks. Recount demanded by the C.C.F. was first rejected by Judge McGeer on a technicality when the C.C.F. application referred to the seat as "Burrard" instead of "Vancouver-Burrard."

Supreme Court of B.C. reversed the County Court decision and ordered the recount to be held.

ASK ACTION

Mr. Winch said his party had applied to the provincial secretary this morning for action by the cabinet to remove "technical impediments" to the recount.

At the opening of the court hearing today E. I. Bird, counsel for the C.C.F. candidate, asked for an adjournment until such an order-in-council had been considered.

In reply, Judge McGeer said he was not dealing with an election, but with a recount, which could not be conducted when there had not been compliance with the Election Act in sealing, packaging and endorsing ballots.
